ANNUAL RETURNS OF ESTABLISHMENTS FOR 1ST JULY 1904.

Circular No. 2050—T. A. D. 1224, dated 18*th June* 1904.

1. The Comptroller has the honor to request that the Public Officers named below will be so good as to furnish this office with their Annual Returns of fixed establishments for the 1st July 1904, prepared in accordance with the instructions laid down in pages 25, 26 and 27 (Chapter 5), Volume 1 of the Sixth Edition of the Civil Account Code, so as to reach this office not later than the 15*th September* 1904.

2. The returns should be prepared on no other than the prescribed printed form to be had from the Superintendent of Stationery, and will show accurately the establishment as it exists on 1st July, and in preparing it, the following instructions should be carefully attended to :—

(a) The name, designation, and pay of every gazetted officer, clerk, or menial servant holding a permanent appointment, whether on duty or absent on leave, or deputation, or under suspension, should be distinctly shown, with the exception of those exempted from keeping service books by Article 431 of the Mysore Service Regulations.

(b) The date of birth, year, month and day of the appointment and of appointment to present post, and of promotion to present pay of each person, as well as the number and date of the Government Orders creating the post, should be clearly entered in the appropriate columns of the statement, the date of birth by Christian era should be given, and if the exact date is not known, the approximate date or year should be stated. This date can only be altered under the orders of the Local Government, except in the case of a clerical error. It should be noted that the column "Promotion to present pay" is to be filled in, only when the pay is progressive and the incumbent of the appointment is drawing pay in excess of the minimum.

(d) The names of gazetted officers should be entered first, and beneath them those of the clerks and servants in order of sections of the establishment: there should be a separate total for each section, besides the grand total.

(e) The columns of Minimum and Maximum pay of post should be filled up only when the pay is progressive, i. e., rises from a minimum to a maximum by annual increment; and if any annual increment is given with effect from 1st July, it should be included in the return, and compared with the certificate (in Form No. 8) required by Article 62 which would accompany the July bill.

(f) The name of any person acting in an appointment, as well as the acting allowance paid to him, should be shown in the column "Name of Incumbent" beneath the name of the absentee for whom he is officiating.

(h) If any person on the establishment has attained the age of 55 years, the number and date of the orders of Government or other competent authority permitting his retention in the service, should be quoted in a note at foot of the return and the period for which his retention has been authorised should also be mentioned. If no orders have been received, the number and date of the application for sanction to his retention should be noted.

(i) A detailed statement in Form 4 should be given at back of the original return, Form 3, showing new names of non-gazetted officers which are not found in the return of the previous year; and when these new names include those of persons who have entered Government service for the first time, a reference should be given to the bill with which their age and health certificates were furnished; and if they include the names of persons transferred from another appointment, those appointments should be specified, as well as the dates from which the transfers have effect. Columns are also provided in Form 4, for information required in regard to the names of non-gazetted officers which appeared in Form No. 3 of the previous year; but are now omitted; as also regarding non-gazetted officers who have been on leave other than privilege or casual, or under suspension, during the previous year. In the case of any who have been under suspension, a note is required stating whether it has been expressly declared that the period of suspension shall count as service qualifying for pension (Article 269 of the Mysore Service Regulations).

(j) Separate returns on the same printed forms should be prepared for each permanent establishment existing on 1st July paid from Local Funds, and not more than one establishment should be exhibited on a single page. When the pay of any establishment or of any individual officer is met partly from General Revenues and partly from Local or other funds, the whole pay should be shown in one statement, and the portion payable from each source specified in a foot-note.

3. When completed in accordance with the above instructions, the detailed statement should be carefully checked with the service books, save in the cases excepted in clause (a), as it will be the chief authority by which hereafter pension claims will be tested. A certificate of this comparison should be endorsed on the return thus: "Compared with service books and found to agree."

4. This return should be accompanied by an abstract, which will link together the gross numbers shown in the budget estimate of each establishment and the nominal rolls in the book of establishment.

5. Slips of paper should not be attached at foot of the returns, but if space is found insufficient, application should be made to the Stationery Department for a sufficient supply of forms for insertion in book form. In cases where more than one sheet is required to be used, care should be taken to have the sheets stitched in book form before the entries are made therein.

6. Pay bills due 1st November will not be discharged at the Treasuries unless accompanied by a certificate as follows:—

III. Read Secretary's docket No. 3558—L. F. 344-96, dated 21st March 1904, requesting re-consideration of the question of establishing native dispensaries at three places, viz., Grama, Palya and Harnahalli, as proposed in the President's letter No. 398, dated 25th February 1904, having regard to the low finances of the District Board, and submission of revised proposals on the subject.

Read also Assistant Surgeon's docket No. 2684, dated 3rd June 1904, expressing his opinion on the petition of certain inhabitants of Grama praying that an Hospital Assistant be permanently located at Grama, instead of the present arrangement of a weekly visit by an Hospital Assistant from Hassan.

Resolution.—Considering the cost of these native dispensaries and the fact that the whole cost of such institutions would have to be defrayed from District Funds as intimated by Government in the Secretary's docket read above, resolved that provision be made in the ensuing year's District Fund budget for only two native dispensaries, viz., one at Grama and the other at Harnahalli, no such dispensary being necessary for the present at Palya which is within four miles from the Alur Local Fund dispensary.

Upon discussion of the subject of the petition of the residents of Grama diversity of opinion having arisen as to whether an indigenous dispensary is required or whether a regular Local Fund dispensary should be applied for, it is further resolved that the subject be referred to the Taluk Boards of Hassan and Arsikere for discussion and submission of the opinions of those Boards for consideration of the District Board.

IV. Read Secretary's docket No. 3679—L. F. 6-04, dated 26th March 1904, requesting re-submission of the District Fund budget estimates for 1904-05, after revising the same with reference to Taluk Boards budgets in accordance with the Rules under the Local Boards Regulation, II of 1902.

Budget estimates for 1904-05, as compiled by the Finance Committee of the District Board and its report read and explained to the members of the Board.

Resolution.—Resolved that the consolidated estimates based on the Taluk Boards budgets as compiled by the Finance Committee be passed and submitted to Government for sanction.

V. Read Government Proceedings No. 3878-85—L. F. 109-83, dated 8th April 1904, stating that Government will be glad to obtain the views of the District Boards in regard to fixing the rates for house tax in Unions under Section 20 of the Local Boards Regulation and sanctioning certain rates of house tax provisionally.

Resolution.—The Board observes that the provisional rates laid down in the Government Proceedings read above are suitable and may be adopted.

VI. Read Mysore Division Executive Engineer's docket No. 245, dated 15th March 1904, requesting that Government sanction be obtained to the proposed conversion of the inspection lodge at Ramnathpur in Arkalgud Taluk into a 3rd class travellers' bungalow for transfer to the Revenue Department of the Hassan District.

Resolution.—Considering that the finances of the District Board are already burdened with increasing charges on account of maintenance of roads, etc., it is resolved that it is not possible to make provision for the cost of establishment, and upkeep of the inspection lodge in question, and that it is not necessary to convert the lodge into a 3rd class travellers' bungalow and transfer it to the Revenue Department.

VII. Read Government Proceedings No. 4313—L. F. 66-03, dated 12th May 1904, sanctioning the proposal of the Hassan District Board at their meeting held on 5th March 1904 to introduce house tax into the marginally noted Unions of this District under Section 20 of the Local Boards Regulation.

Grama.	Basavapatna.
Harnahalli.	Banawar.
Konanore.	Sravanabelagola.

Resolution.—Recorded.

VIII. Read Government Proceedings No. 4015-24—L. F. 32-02, dated 20th April 1904, stating that if after ten years an Amrut Mahal bull becomes unserviceable, it must be sold for what it may fetch and a new bull obtained from the Amrut Mahal Department.

Resolution.—Recorded and resolved that instructions of Government be sought as to what should be done in the case of an Amrut Mahal bull found to be unserviceable before expiry of the period of ten years specified in the Government Proceedings.

IX. Read letter No. 534, dated 19—24th May 1904, addressed to Government by the President requesting sanction to the entertainment from 1st July 1904 of a sweeper on Rs. 7 per month for the newly built 3rd class travellers' bungalow at Arehalli which is approaching completion.

It was explained to the Board that provision was made for a sweeper for this travellers' bungalow in the ensuing year's budget estimates, compiled by the Finance Committee.

Resolution.—Approved and recorded.

X. The question of electing two non-official members to be deputed to attend the ensuing Dasara Representative Assembly at Mysore was next taken up.

Resolution.—On due election by votes of the non-official members present, resolved that Messrs. K. Thammaiya, Coffee Planter of Belur Taluk and Mr. Lakshmi Narasimhachar, Pleader of Hassan, be deputed to represent this Board.

XI. Read correspondence ending with Channarayapatna Taluk Amildar's report No. 17, dated 12th August 1903 (received through the General Assistant Commissioner) containing the Amildar's proposal that the eastern portion of the musafirkhana at Channarayapatna be set apart for the Annachattram until a new chattram building is erected on the vacant site adjoining the musafirkhana, as per plan submitted by the Amildar.

Resolution.—Taluk Boards having since been constituted for each Taluk, resolved that the Amildar's proposal be referred to the Channarayapatna Taluk Board for discussion and expression of opinion.

ANNUAL RETURNS OF ESTABLISHMENTS FOR 1ST JULY 1904.

Circular No. 2050—T. A. D. 1224, dated 18*th June* 1904.

1. The Comptroller has the honor to request that the Public Officers named below will be so good as to furnish this office with their Annual Returns of fixed establishments for the 1st July 1904, prepared in accordance with the instructions laid down in pages 25, 26 and 27 (Chapter 5), Volume 1 of the Sixth Edition of the Civil Account Code, so as to reach this office not later than the 15*th September* 1904.

2. The returns should be prepared on no other than the prescribed printed form to be had from the Superintendent of Stationery, and will show accurately the establishment as it exists on 1st July, and in preparing it, the following instructions should be carefully attended to :—

(a) The name, designation, and pay of every gazetted officer, clerk, or menial servant holding a permanent appointment, whether on duty or absent on leave, or deputation, or under suspension, should be distinctly shown, with the exception of those exempted from keeping service books by Article 431 of the Mysore Service Regulations.

(b) The date of birth, year, month and day of the appointment and of appointment to present post, and of promotion to present pay of each person, as well as the number and date of the Government Orders creating the post, should be clearly entered in the appropriate columns of the statement, the date of birth by Christian era should be given, and if the exact date is not known, the approximate date or year should be stated. This date can only be altered under the orders of the Local Government, except in the case of a clerical error. It should be noted that the column "Promotion to present pay" is to be filled in, only when the pay is progressive and the incumbent of the appointment is drawing pay in excess of the minimum.

(c) The return should show accurately the sanctioned scale of permanent establishment, and so will include every post, whether filled up or not; and if a post be vacant, the word vacant should be set against it in the column of "Name of incumbent."

(d) The names of gazetted officers should be entered first, and beneath them those of the clerks and servants in order of sections of the establishment: there should be a separate total for each section, besides the grand total.

(e) The columns of Minimum and Maximum pay of post should be filled up only when the pay is progressive, i. e., rises from a minimum to a maximum by annual increment; and if any annual increment is given with effect from 1st July, it should be included in the return, and compared with the certificate (in Form No. 8) required by Article 62 which would accompany the July bill.

(f) The name of any person acting in an appointment, as well as the acting allowance paid to him, should be shown in the column "Name of Incumbent" beneath the name of the absentee for whom he is officiating.

(g) If the acting incumbent holds his permanent appointment upon another establishment, the fact should be stated, and the entry should be supported by a certificate from the head of that other establishment.

(h) If any person on the establishment has attained the age of 55 years, the number and date of the orders of Government or other competent authority permitting his retention in the service, should be quoted in a note at foot of the return and the period for which his retention has been authorised should also be mentioned. If no orders have been received, the number and date of the application for sanction to his retention should be noted.

(i) A detailed statement in Form 4 should be given at back of the original return, Form 3, showing new names of non-gazetted officers which are not found in the return of the previous year; and when these new names include those of persons who have entered Government service for the first time, a reference should be given to the bill with which their age and health certificates were furnished; and if they include the names of persons transferred from another appointment, those appointments should be specified, as well as the dates from which the transfers have effect. Columns are also provided in Form 4, for information required in regard to the names of non-gazetted officers which appeared in Form No. 3 of the previous year; but are now omitted; as also regarding non-gazetted officers who have been on leave other than privilege or casual, or under suspension, during the previous year. In the case of any who have been under suspension, a note is required stating whether it has been expressly declared that the period of suspension shall count as service qualifying for pension (Article 269 of the Mysore Service Regulations).

(j) Separate returns on the same printed forms should be prepared for each permanent establishment existing on 1st July paid from Local Funds, and not more than one establishment should be exhibited on a single page. When the pay of any establishment or of any individual officer is met partly from General Revenues and partly from Local or other funds, the whole pay should be shown in one statement, and the portion payable from each source specified in a foot-note.

3. When completed in accordance with the above instructions, the detailed statement should be carefully checked with the service books, save in the cases excepted in clause (a), as it will be the chief authority by which hereafter pension claims will be tested. A certificate of this comparison should be endorsed on the return thus: "Compared with service books and found to agree."

4. This return should be accompanied by an abstract, which will link together the gross numbers shown in the budget estimate of each establishment and the nominal rolls in the book of establishment.

5. Slips of paper should not be attached at foot of the returns, but if space is found insufficient, application should be made to the Stationery Department for a sufficient supply of forms for insertion in book form. In cases where more than one sheet is required to be used, care should be taken to have the sheets stitched in book form before the entries are made therein.

No. 10—15-10-1901.—If no instructions, either at foot of notifications, or separately by docket, accompany any matter, it will be printed in the language in which it is written, and published only once.

Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, Muzrai, dated 20th May 1904.

Appeal No. 91 of 1903-04.

Seshagiriachar (dead), his widow Pillubayi alias Ramabayi appears and is substituted.		1. Gothubayi 2. Yesvanta Rao, minors by guardian Bhima Rao.

Subject.

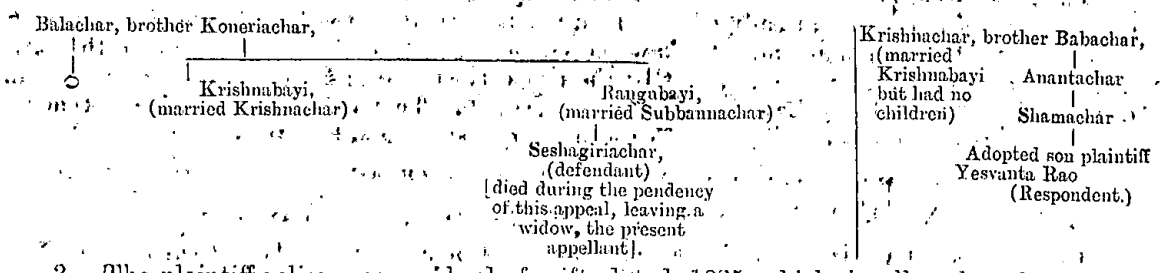
Second appeal against the decree of the Muzrai Assistant Commissioner, Mysore District, decreeing to the respondent, the puja hak of the Anjaneyaswami temple at Hanasoge, Yedatore Taluk, with the inam land attached to it.

The facts of the case appear sufficiently from the following :—

Decision.

This is a dispute in connection with the puja hak of the Anjaneyaswami temple at Hanasoge, with the Inam land attached to it. The hak in question originally belonged to one Balachar, who died some 60 or 70 years ago. He had a brother by name Koneriachar, who predeceased him leaving behind him two minor daughters named Krishnabayi and Rangubayi. Balachar had no children. He brought up his orphan nieces and married them to one Krishnachar and Subbannachar, respectively. Both the parties to this suit claim under a gift from Balachar. They are however at variance as to the nature of the gift, one side, viz., the plaintiff, alleging that the gift was in favor of Krishnachar alone and for his own benefit, and the other, viz., the defendant, contending that it was in favor of both Krishnachar and Subbannachar and not on their own account but on behalf of their wives, the nieces of the donor. The Amildar and the Assistant Commissioner accepted the former version and rejected the latter. In the result the suit was allowed. Hence this appeal.

2. For a proper understanding and appreciation of the case, the relationship between the parties is shown in the geneological tree below :—



3. The plaintiff relies upon a deed of gift, dated 1835 which is alleged to have been suppressed by the other side and of which therefore he produces a copy. The genuineness of this document is impugned and has not been satisfactorily established. Reliance is placed upon the order of Government in Appeal No. 188 of 1892-93 in which a reference has been made to a gift in favor of Krishnachar, but it appears clear that reference cannot have the force of a finding, occurring as it does, not in the body of the decision, but in the resume of the facts of the case. It cannot moreover affect the defendant who was not a party to that proceeding. Certain statements made on diverse occasions by Krishnabayi are next relied on, but the Government are of opinion that there is nothing in those statements to justify the contention based upon them. They do not necessarily show that the gift was one made either in Krishnachar's sole name or for his own benefit. The defendant cannot moreover be held bound by them or by the karar executed by Krishnabayi to Anantachar in 1879. The conduct of the defendant's husband Seshagiriachar is said to militate against the defendants present ascertion, but here too Government are unable to agree with the authorities below. Krishnabayi undoubtedly had an interest in the subject-matter of this litigation and the fact that she was assisted by Seshagiriachar in the conduct of certain proceedings connected with the assertion of that interest and in the performance of puja in the temple, does not show that the latter had himself no interest in the hak or that he was estopped from asserting it. Lastly, certain Jari Inamti accounts have been relied upon as evidence of Krishnachar's exclusive ownership. In the view, however, that Government have taken of the case, these accounts cannot be accepted as conclusive evidence, contradicted as they are by an earlier account the authenticity of which they see no reason to question.

4. And now coming to the case set up by the defendant, Government find that in addition to the evidence which will be referred to later on, the balance of probabilities is quite in its favor. Balachar had no interest in Krishnachar except as the husband of one of his nieces, and he was not therefore likely to have given away his property to him to the detriment not only of that niece, but also of the other niece. The disposition evidenced by the deed of gift relied upon by the defendant is a perfectly natural one. Balachar was anxious that the hak should not pass out of the family and he accordingly gave it to both these girls at the time of their marriage with the condition attached that, in the event of one of them dying without male issue her half share should pass to the other. As regards the evidence, Government are satisfied that the document comes from proper custody and that it has all the appearance of a genuine instrument. Being a very old document, the law presumes its genuineness. It is engrossed upon a stamp paper expressly purchased for the purpose. Its existence was referred to in a deposition given by Krishnabayi so far back as 5th February 1889. Again a plaint filed by herself and Seshagiriachar on 8th September 1891 makes mention of it. The Assistant Commissioner is in error in suspecting that it must have come into existence in 1893 when the case between Krishnabayi and Shamachar was before Government. The gift in favor of both the nieces represented by their husbands has been expressly mentioned in the marginal note to the Jari Inamti account for the year 1831. There is nothing suspicious about this note. It is in the same handwriting as the rest of the account and its age and appearance must be given due weight. The only thing that could be said against it is that the copy maintained in the Huzur records does not contain a similar note. Government do not however attach much importance to this circumstance, inasmuch as the last mentioned paper does not profess to be a verbatim copy of the original. It is shorter and less descriptive, and this is not the only shara which is found in the original but is absent in the copy. It is noteworthy that even the admitted gift of certain Bhatamanyam lands to Subbannachar in 1831 which is referred to in the original by a marginal shara, has not found a corresponding place in the said copy, or even in the copy for the two subsequent years.

5. The conduct of Seshagiriachar throughout seems to show that he always regarded himself as the owner of a half share in the hak in question. Neither the possession of Krishnachar who died in 1876 nor that of Krishnabayi who died in 1896 has been shown to have been adverse to Rangubayi or her son Seshagiriachar.

6. Under these circumstances, Government have no hesitation in coming to the conclusion that the plaintiff has not substantiated his case while the defendant has.

7. There remains the question whether in spite of the above finding the suit is entitled to succeed. Government are of opinion that it is not. The plaintiff can only claim as a lineal descendant of Krishnachar. But that individual had no title of his own to the hak, having merely been his wife's agent in regard to her half share which, on the death of that woman without male issue, passed under the terms of the gift to her sister's son the defendant's husband Seshagiriachar, who already owned the other half; and on the latter's demise the whole descended to the defendant under the law succession. The law recognizes gifts of this kind, i.e., gifts accompanied by a condition that the property should pass to another in a particular event, vide Mayne's Hindu Law, 5th Edition, para 350. That being so, it follows that the defendant's title is unassailable and that the plaintiff's suit should be thrown out.

8. The appeal is accordingly allowed and the suit dismissed.

No. R. 4318, dated 30*th June*—11*th July* 1904.

The following scheme sanctioned by the Government of His Highness the Maharaja for improving the Shekdari Service is published for general information :—

(1) From the 1st of July 1904, the pay of the Shekdars shall be Rs. 35 for the 1st grade, Rs. 30 for the 2nd and Rs. 25 for the 3rd.

(2) The number of the Shekdars shall be 374 and their number in each grade shall not exceed the following proportion :—

20 per cent of the total number in the 1st grade, i.e., 75 at Rs. 35 each.
30 per cent of the total number in the 2nd grade, i. e., 112 at Rs. 30 each.
50 per cent of the total number in the 3rd grade, i. e, 187 at Rs. 25 each.

(3) The Shekdars will draw a horse allowance of Rs. 10 each per month, and the Malnad allowance wherever allowed will continue as heretofore.

(4) Every Shekdar will keep a decent riding pony and shall spend at least 20 days in every month on tour in his hobli.

(5) The qualifications for admission into this service shall be :—

(i) That the applicant has passed an University examination not lower than the Matriculation and that in the case of men not already in service, they are not above the age of 25 years ;

(ii) That the candidate is pronounced physically fit by a Medical Officer not inferior in rank to a District Medical Officer.

(6) Candidates for Shekdari shall have passed an examination in the following subjects to be called the Shekdar's Test :—

(a) The subjects prescribed by Government Notification No. 3766—R. F. 108-92, dated the 6th November 1900, viz., Land Revenue Code, Rules framed thereunder, and specified portions of the Revenue Manual (new) and Survey Manual, or any other compilation of the standing orders of Government that may be issued from time to time.

(1) He will be attached to a Measuring Establishment for one field season, 8 months or less in special cases for receiving practical instruction.

(2) As a test of his qualification he should obtain a certificate from the Officer in charge of the Measuring Establishment to which he is attached, that he is competent to execute ordinary chain and cross staff measurement and knows the measuring rules.

(3) In very exceptional cases, where the candidate deserve it, the Officers may grant a certificate after a training of not less than 4 months.

(4) When the number of Shekdars to be trained is too large to admit of their being attached to Measuring Establishments, some of them may be attached to District Surveyors, who may also grant certificates in the same manner as Officers in charge of Measuring Establishments and such certificates may be accepted.

(9) Promotion from the 3rd grade to the 2nd and from the 2nd to the 1st shall be regulated in the following manner :—

(i) Till the maximum number of vacancies is filled up in each grade, two years' efficient service in a grade of a Shekdar qualified as above will entitle him to promotion to the next higher grade;

(ii) when the maximum number of vacancies in the 1st and 2nd grades are thus filled up, promotions will be regulated by vacancies occurring from time to time and will depend on the comparative merits, qualifications and service of men in the lower grades.

(10) No Shekdar that does not qualify himself as herein laid down shall be entitled to the pay of any of the new grades, but shall get only the pay to which he is entitled under the old rules.

III. Read Government Order No. 4794-803 of the 29th March 1904, communicating to the Senior Surgeon and Presidents of District Boards and Municipalities, a letter from the Government of India recommending work called "Practical Study of Malaria" by Dr. J. Postage is not charged for places within the Mysore Province. All subscriptions and advertisement charges must be paid in advance to the Compiler of the Mysore Gazette.

No. 2—10-9-1901.—Much inconvenience is caused in this office by subscribers not giving their full and correct addresses, and writing illegibly on the money order coupons, which are unfit for record.

No. 3—10-9-1901.—It is notified that as all Taluk Treasuries are authorized to receive subscriptions for the Gazette, money orders sent to this office will not be received, except from outside the Province.

No. 4—10-9-1901.—Communications on post-cards or on paper less than half a sheet of foolscap will not receive attention.

No. 5—1-10-1901.—An efficient system of check and counter-check is maintained over the despatching of Gazette copies forwarded through Post. No responsibility will be accepted when copies miscarry, or are not delivered to addressees, and such losses will not be replaced by duplicate copies.

No. 6—1-10-1901.—Complaints regarding non-receipt of the Gazette should be forwarded to the undersigned within a week after the date on which it is due.

No. 7—15-10-1901.—Copy is sometimes sent to the Press late on Wednesday evenings for publication in the next day's Gazette. This involves considerable inconvenience to the Press and expense to Government. It is therefore notified that all matter intended for publication in Parts II, III and IV should reach this office not later than Tuesday evening; and that for Part I not later than the forenoon of Wednesday, for the following Thursday's issue of the Gazette.

No. 8—15-10-1901.—It is requested that Departments will refrain from sending to the Press any matter for publication as extremely urgent later than 12 noon on Tuesdays when such matter can without inconvenience be held over for the next week's Gazette.

No. 9—15-10-1901.—Spare copies of notifications, etc., are often asked for long after their publication, when the matter has been broken up, necessitating its resetting, causing inconvenience to the Press and waste of money. It is therefore requested that when spare copies are wanted, a note to that effect, stating the number of copies, be made at foot of such notification, etc.

No. 10—15-10-1901.—If no instructions, either at foot of notifications, or separately by docket, accompany any matter, it will be printed in the language in which it is written, and published only once.

T. S. NANJAPPA,

The Mysore Gazette.

Vol. 39.] PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY. [No. 30.

BANGALORE, THURSDAY, JULY 28, 1904.

PART III.

Legislative Measures and Rules thereunder.

No. R. 4342, dated 30th June 1904.

The Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore are pleased to lay down the following Rules for the grant of Government land for garden cultivation on favourable terms, in lieu of those contained in Appendix I to the Land Revenue Rules of 1890 :—

RULES FOR THE GRANT OF GOVERNMENT LAND FOR GARDEN CULTIVATION ON FAVOURABLE TERMS.

Grant of waste land for Dhruvapairu cultivation.

1. Unassessed Government waste land applied for for Dhruvapairu garden cultivation will, where no objection exists to the grant, be given to the applicant, subject to the following rates of assessment, viz :—

A.—For Arecanut gardens in the Malnad.

Firstly.—For the first twelve years, including the year of the grant, four annas per acre per annum.

Secondly.—For the 13th, 14th and 15th years at one-fourth, one-half and three-fourths, respectively, of the rate that may be fixed by the Survey and Settlement Commissioner.

Thirdly.—The full garden rate, fixed as above, to come into operation from the 16th year.

B. For Arecanut gardens in the Maidan and for all Cocoanut gardens.

Firstly.—For the first nine years, including the year of grant, four annas per acre per annum.

Secondly.—For the 10th, 11th and 12th years, at one-fourth, one-half and three-fourths, respectively, of the rate that may be fixed by the Survey and Settlement Commissioner.

Thirdly.—The full garden rate, fixed as above, to come into operation from the 13th year.

Conditions for planting up the lands taken up and consequences of failure to comply with them.

2. Within seven years of the date of grant, the land taken up shall be entirely planted up. The grantee shall be bound to plant up not less than one-third of the entire area at the end of the 3rd year of grant, two-thirds at the end of the 5th year, and bring the whole area under garden cultivation at the end of the 7th year. Failure to comply with these conditions as to planting shall render the entire land liable to full garden rate fixed in the manner aforesaid.

The grantee who fails to plant up the entire area of the grant within the prescribed time, will, however, be allowed to resign any portion of the grant in compact blocks of not less than two acres each in the case of cocoanut gardens and one acre each in the case of arecanut gardens. Provided that should the grantee relinquish the land either in whole or in part for any reason whatever within seven years from the date of the grant, he shall, in the discretion of the Deputy Commissioner, be liable to pay a fine not exceeding the estimated value of the trees, if any, standing on the land at the time of grant but removed by the grantee during his occupation. Such estimated value shall always be entered in every "Kaul" granted under these rules.

Minimum area to be granted.

3. No concession shall be granted under these rules for small and insignificant bits of land in Maidan Taluks, in spots such as feeders of tanks, tank beds, vonis, and such like, which are purposely excluded from agricultural lands at the Survey. The minimum area to be granted shall, in the Maidan Taluks, be one acre and in the Malnad Taluks twenty guntas.

When the above garden assessment is liable to revision.

4. The garden rate of assessment referred to in the preceding rules shall not be liable to revision otherwise than at a general revision of land revenue assessment throughout the taluk.

5. Grants under these rules shall be in the appended form.

Applications for lands to be made to the Amildar and the steps he shall take.

6. Applications for lands under these rules shall be made in writing to the Amildar, who shall make such enquiry as may be necessary, and submit the application to the Deputy Commissioner for orders with as little delay as possible.

When the Deputy Commissioner may grant partial temporary remission of the existing garden assessment.

7.—In the case of arecanut and cocoanut gardens assessed at garden rates which have, from any cause whatsoever, remained unoccupied for more than three years preceding the date of application for the land, the Deputy Commissioner may, in his discretion, grant such partial temporary remission of the existing garden assessment as may appear to him to be reasonable with reference to the present condition of the gardens, but not so as to exceed one-half of the term of favourable assessment allowable under Rule 1.

Conditions on which these abandoned gardens are given on Shraya and the penalties to be attached to breach of such conditions shall be specified in each grant.

Orders of Government necessary for more liberal concession.

8. Cases falling under Rule 7 above, which, in the opinion of the Deputy Commissioner, may require more liberal concessions than are authorised by that rule, shall be specially reported for the orders of Government through the Survey and Settlement and Revenue Commissioners.

When revised grants shall issue.

9. Where delay is apprehended in fixing the garden rate referred to in Rule 1, the Deputy Commissioner shall grant the lands applied for, reserving expressly for future decision the rate of garden assessment to be fixed. In such a case the rate of garden assessment shall be fixed and duly entered in revised grants to be issued as early as possible in substitution of those already issued.

GOVT. OF H. H. THE MAHARAJA OF MYSORE, GENL. AND REV SECRETARIAT.
Dated Bangalore, 20th July 1904.

B. K. VENKATAVARADAIYENGAR,
Offg. Secy. to Govt., Gen. & Rev. Depts.

NOTE ON THE INTRODUCTION, CULTIVATION AND PROPAGATION OF AGAVE RIGIDA VAR. SISALANA, IN THE LAL-BAGH, BANGALORE.

Habitat and distribution.

The Sisal hemp plant is indigenous to Mexico, and is said to derive its commercial name from the Port of Sisal in Yucatan. The parent species, Agave rigida, has run into several cultivated varieties, of which the variety sisalana is most prized for the quality of its fibre. Henequen and Sisal hemp, are the popular names given to the marketable or prepared fibre of all the cultivated varieties. There are also special vernacular names attached to the several commercial kinds. For many years the Sisal plant has been extensively cultivated in Florida, and from a more recent period in the Bahama Islands. In comparatively recent years the plant has found its way to this country, where it is likely to be of great value.

Introduction to Mysore.

Acting on my advice, and kindly assisted by the authorities at Kew, the late Mr. Ricketts was able, in 1892, to import 5,000 plants direct from Florida. Prior to this date a few plants of Agave rigida had found their way into the Botanical Gardens, but it is quite improbable that the variety Sisalana had ever appeared in the Province before. We may, therefore, take 1892 as the starting period of this important cultivation.

Cultivation and experiment.

The plants from Florida arrived in excellent condition and were at once planted out in the Lal-Bagh. In view to hardening them off and inducing them to reproduce their kind, it was decided to plant thickly in an open field which had formerly been cropped with ragi and other dry crops. The bulk of the consignment was therefore laid down in a plot of land measuring only ¼ of an acre. With the exception of occasional thinning out to relieve congestion and meet small indents, the original plants still remain in this position, where they form an overcrowded and conspicuous clump. Suckers were allowed to grow and the matured leaves of parent plants have not been cut, hence poling commenced in the 9th year, or in 1901. Poling, or the growth of the floral axis, forming flowers, fruit, seed and adventitious buds, renders propagation easy as each pole gives birth to upwards of 2,000 buds, which shortly develop into bulblets that mature and fall to the ground. This beautiful provision of nature to replace the sterile seed in a perfect and more advanced form of growth is characteristic of the Sisal plant.

It will thus be seen that the main object of cultivation in the Lal-Bagh during the period under report has been to induce poling and render the plants hardy. We shall now have ample material to commence cultivation for another object, if desired, e. g., to produce Sisal hemp, the valuable product of the leaf. During the current official year 45,000 plants have been sold for that purpose, at a cost of Rs. 1,000; a sum which more than twice covers the original outlay for introducing the species from Florida.

In my opinion, cultivation should be left to private enterprise, though, in the case of arid tracts where ragi often fails to reward the raiyat, it may be feasible to substitute a crop of this kind. But that could only be done when a real demand for hemp arises at convenient centres.

The advantages of the cultivation may be briefly stated as follows :—

1. Land of a gravelly and stony nature is suitable.
2. When land is planted up the cultivation practically ceases for a period of 4 years, or until the matured leaves are ready for cutting.
3. On suitable land failure of crop has never been heard of.
4. The profit on an acre of land yielding crop is estimated at £4 to £5 per annum, that is 60 to 75 rupees.

The large succulent growth obtained in rich land is inimical both to the quantity and quality of fibre produced; therefore somewhat poor land of a loose stony nature is always preferred, as in addition to giving better results generally it accommodates a larger number of plants to the acre. Mysore possesses plenty of such land, and if the latter can produce leaves of four feet in length it will do. But there is a reduction in value, as well as difficulty in extracting the fibre, when the leaves are under three feet in length. In Yucatan, plants are put out in rows at 7, 8, 9 and even 12 feet apart, according to the nature of the soil. But the general practice is to allow nothing under 400 plants to the acre, while 660 is considered about the maximum number. In the Bahamas the planting is somewhat closer. When a plantation is once established it may be profitably worked for a life-time, care being taken not to let the plants pole or become exhausted from over-cutting. In a large plantation drives are left at convenient intervals to facilitate the easy removal of leaves.

Machinery.

A matter which closely concerns the prosperity of Sisal hemp is the use of proper machinery for the extraction of the fibre. Kindly responding to an enquiry made by me on this subject, Sir Daniel Morris, Commissioner, Imperial Department of Agriculture for the West Indies, writes as follows :—

"In regard to machinery for the treatment of fibre plants such as Agave sisalana there appears to be a thoroughly satisfactory machine in use in the Bahamas which will clean about half to three quarters of a ton of fibre per day. This machine is manufactured by T. C. Todd of Patterson, New Jersey, U. S. A. The machine itself is of considerable size and weight, and costs from £500 to £600. It is usually driven by an oil engine of 4 to 5 horse-power. I believe the total cost of machine and oil engine with all necessary fittings is about £1,000. As far as I am aware there are no small machines that can be depended upon to turn out first class fibre from Agave leaves. These, as you are aware, are so large and heavy that a powerful machine is absolutely necessary to deal with them. I have no confidence that any hand power machine could be constructed sufficiently strong to clean any full sized Agave leaves such as could produce good commercial fibre. If you desire further information with regard to this subject, I recommend you to obtain a copy of "Colonial Reports, Miscellaneous No. 5, Bahamas. The Sisal industry, London: Eyre and Spottiswoode, 1896, price 1½". You might also usefully consult "The Agaves, a remarkable group of useful plants". Reprint from Year Book of the U. S. Department of Agriculture for 1902."

In support of the above opinion by an experienced and high authority, it may be mentioned that Todd's machine is the one now employed by the South Indian Fibre Company.

Another machine which has done excellent work in extracting fibre of a somewhat similar, but inferior texture, is the Mauritius gratte, which is used for extracting the hemp of that colony from Furcræa gigantea. It is worked by steam or water power (3 h. p.) and costs Rs. 250. If a machine of this class could be adapted to the Sisal industry in India it would lessen the initial outlay where limited tracts of cultivation are concerned.

L. F. Circular No. 1, dated 25*th July* 1904.

With reference to the District and Municipal Fund accounts for May and June 1904 received in this office, the Officiating Comptroller has the honor to observe that the cost of certain works has been charged in the accounts, some are supported by bills and payees' receipts and some only by bills, thereby necessitating this office to call for payee's receipts. Cheques have been issued in payment of the bills charged in the List of Payments. A large number of cheques remain uncashed, which may include cheques issued but not delivered to the parties owing to their absence; and the amount charged in the account to avoid lapse of budget grant. Such a procedure could as well be avoided as sanction of Government is obtained for the completion of the works that remained incomplete at the end of the year. Under the above circumstances it is requested that in future the present irregular practice may be discontinued and cheques issued only on the presentation of proper bills duly receipted by the payees, so that the accounts may be submitted to this office with complete vouchers and bills in support of the charges.

It is hereby notified, in accordance with Section 16 (1) of Regulation No. III of 1903, for the Improvements of the City of Mysore, that a scheme for the improvement of that portion of the City described as No. II Drainage area has been prepared. The area lies generally between Bakshi Budan Khan's street and the Hospital road, and comprises the greater part of Lashkar and Mandi Mohallas.

It is bounded—

(a) on the north by Bakshi Budan Khan's, Major Yakub's, Sivaprasad's, Gangaram's and G. Subbanna's streets,

(b) on the north-east by the Church street meeting the road to the travellers' bungalow road, and the foot-path between the junction of the Church street and travellers' bungalow road, and Hale Nazarbad road,

(c) on the east by the Hale Nazarbad road and the old Idga road,

(d) on the south by Gulur Subbanna's street, Court road, Kaliamana temple and Hospital roads,

This area is divided into 23 Drainage Blocks bearing Nos. 10, 11, 12, 13, (part of 18, 19, 21 and 22, and 29 and 30,) 31, 24, 23, 25, 9, 8, 7, 4, 5, 6, 26, 27, 28, 2, 3, as indicated on plans, and comprises the Silledar Lines.

The particulars of the Scheme, a map of the area and the statements specifying the lands and properties to be acquired may be seen at the Chairman's office, between 11 A.M. and 5 P.M. on office days.

The proposed improvements may be summarised under the following heads :—

(a) the opening out of roads, lanes and open spaces, with a view to relieve congestion, facilitate drainage and conservancy, and to admit of sufficient light and air,

(b) the demolition of insanitary houses,

(c) the construction of drains,

(d) the construction of latrines and the provision of other public conveniences,

(e) the removal of insanitary blocks as indicated on the plans and incapable of improvement.

The details of widening the existing lanes and opening out of new roads and conservancy lanes in the several Drainage Blocks are noted below :—

Block No. 10.—Widening cross road No. 6, from Nala street to Jalagar's street, and No. 2 from Bududbudike street to Anegundi Arsu street.

Continuing No. 7 conservancy lane to the west of Anegundi Arsu street to join Bakshi Budan Khan's street.

Opening a new conservancy lane No. 1 from Bakshi Budan Khan's street to Togari street.

Opening two new conservancy lanes No. III and IV as marked on plan.

Block No. 11.—Widening No. 3 road from Bakshi Budan Khan's street to Bududbudike street. It is proposed to open ten new conservancy lanes to thoroughly conserve the area. They are consecutively numbered from two to eleven, and shown on the Block plan.

Block No. 12.—Opening three new conservancy lanes from Bakshi Budan Khan's street to Momthabooth street, and another across No. 9 new conservancy lane to Kaliaman temple street. Nine new conservancy lanes are also proposed to thoroughly conserve the area between Momthabooth street and Mandi market street. They are numbered 11, 2, 1, 3, 10, 12, 13, 5 and 6.

Block No. 13.—It is proposed to open out seven conservancy lanes between Bakshi Budan Khan's street and Berka Makan street.

Two new parallel conservancy lanes to new cross street No. III will also be opened as shewn on plan. They are denoted as Q. and A. E. C.

Six small conservancy lanes between the two new parallel conservancy lanes will also be opened. They are marked H. F. C. P. B. and D. on plan.

Block Nos. 18, 19, 21 and 22 and 29 and 30.—New conservancy lanes and roads in these Blocks were opened under the Scheme sanctioned for No. I Drainage area. The construction of drains only will be handled now.

Block No. 31.—The insanitary houses in this Block will be removed and the existing two conservancy lanes will be widened, and drains constructed, and two new conservancy lanes No. I and IV are proposed to be opened.

Block No. 24.—The two parallel lanes to Gouligar's street will be widened, and seven new conservancy lanes running north to south between Gouligar's street and Kamani Darwaza road will be opened.

Block No. 23.—The insanitary houses will be entirely removed, and a new road parallel to Gouligar street will run through the Block.

Block No. 25.—The chief work in this Block will be the removal of houses condemned as being unfit for occupation. Two new conservancy lanes running north to south between Davood Khan's street and Dee's road will be opened.

Block No. 9.—Seven conservancy lanes parallel to Ragi Mandi street and two lanes running north to south parallel to Kaliaman temple street will be opened.

Block No. 8.—This Block is proposed to be cut up into convenient small blocks to thoroughly drain the whole area. This necessitates the opening of six conservancy lanes east to west, and five from north to south.

Block No. 7.—Several condemned insanitary houses will be removed. The most important work will be making the new road from Mochi Ghaut street to Togari street marked No. 6. Four minor conservancy lanes will also be opened.

Block No. 4.—In this Block also as in the case of No. 7 all the houses condemned as being unfit for occupation will be removed.

Three new conservancy lanes will be opened at the thickly populated portion of the Block.

Block No. 5.—The chief work in this Block is to secure a good cart road along the Main drain which runs parallel to Mochi Ghaut street. Other needful nine conservancy lanes will also be opened, in addition to the removal of insanitary houses.

Block No. 6.—In this Block also, the foot-path along the "Main Drain" will be widened to allow conservancy carts. The thickly populated portions will be conserved by opening newly, fourteen conservancy lanes, suitably situated, as marked on plan.

Block No. 26.—A new conservancy lane parallel to Doddapete street marked (A) and another cross lane marked (B) will be made.

Block No. 27.—A new conservancy lane proposed in Block No. 26 marked (A) will be continued to the Railway Station road. A cross lane from Doddapete road to join the new conservancy lane will be made.

Block No. 28.—All the narrow houses facing the Doddapete road are proposed to be conserved by opening a new conservancy lane instead of allowing the sewage to enter the Main road. This lane will run between Doddapete Main road and Halladakeri street. A new road from Halladakeri road to the Church road through Normal School compound will be made, and the Main drain will run along the side of it.

Block No. 2.—This Block is the most thickly populated portion of the whole "Drainage area." Five conservancy lanes parallel to the Railway Station road, and five lanes across will be opened between Railway Station road and Hospital road. Properties will be acquired to open ten conservancy lanes as marked on plan, to conserve the portion between Hospital road and Ravai street.

Block No. 3.—The most important improvement in this Block will be to remove all the insanitary houses along the Sayaji Rao road. This area will be re-allotted for building convenient houses, with shops utilising the "Frontage" already built. A new conservancy lane will be opened parallel to the Railway Station road from Benki Nawab's street to Kaliamman temple street. Minor cross lanes marked A, C, D, E, G, H, and I will also be opened.

The Deputy Conservator of Forests does not bind himself to allot timber for the whole or any portion of any tender and he is at liberty to dispose of the whole or any portion of the supply available, previous to allotment, should this course prove to be advantageous in the interests of Government.

5. In the interests of fire conservancy the forests will be closed against the removal of timber in the fire season, which, it may be stated for the information of intending purchasers, is generally a period varying from 6 weeks to 2 months commencing from about the middle of February; but is liable to be reduced or extended according to the character of the season. Certain depots in or adjoining the forests will, however, be set apart and remain open throughout the whole of this period for the removal of timber for the convenience of those purchasers who may choose to collect timber therein in order to avoid the inconvenience of an interruption of their transport operations during the fire season.

6. The rates and conditions of sale are regulated by Notification No. 53, dated 7th September 1903, of the Chief Commissioner of Coorg, for copy of which or further information apply to the undersigned.

Note.—Any tenders made after 1st September 1904 will be subject to a late fee of 1 anna per rupee of value of tender.

It is hereby notified, in accordance with Section 16 (1) of Regulation No. III of 1903, for the Improvements of the City of Mysore, that a scheme for the improvement of that portion of the City described as No. II Drainage area has been prepared. The area lies generally between Bakshi Budan Khan's street and the Hospital road, and comprises the greater part of Lashkar and Mandi Mohallas.

It is bounded—

(a) on the north by Bakshi Budan Khan's, Major Yakub's, Sivaprasad's, Gangaram's and G. Subbanna's streets,

(b) on the north-east by the Church street meeting the road to the travellers' bungalow road, and the foot-path between the junction of the Church street and travellers' bungalow road, and Hale Nazarbad road,

(d) on the south by Gulur Subbanna's street, Court road, Kaliamana temple and Hospital roads,

This area is divided into 23 Drainage Blocks bearing Nos. 10, 11, 12, 13, (part of 18, 19, 21 and 22, and 29 and 30,) 31, 24, 23, 25, 9, 8, 7, 4, 5, 6, 26, 27, 28, 2, 3, as indicated on plans, and comprises the Silledar Lines.

The particulars of the Scheme, a map of the area and the statements specifying the lands and properties to be acquired may be seen at the Chairman's office, between 11 A.M. and 5 P.M. on office days.

The proposed improvements may be summarised under the following heads:—

(a) the opening out of roads, lanes and open spaces, with a view to relieve congestion, facilitate drainage and conservancy, and to admit of sufficient light and air,

(b) the demolition of insanitary houses,

(c) the construction of drains,

(d) the construction of latrines and the provision of other public conveniences,

(e) the removal of insanitary blocks as indicated on the plans and incapable of improvement.

The details of widening the existing lanes and opening out of new roads and conservancy lanes in the several Drainage Blocks are noted below:—

Block No. 10.—Widening cross road No. 6, from Nala street to Jalagar's street, and No. 2 from Budubudike street to Anegundi Arsu street.

Continuing No. 7 conservancy lane to the west of Anegundi Arsu street to join Bakshi Budan Khan's street.

Opening a new conservancy lane No. I from Bakshi Budan Khan's street to Togari street.

Opening two new conservancy lanes No. III and IV as marked on plan.

Block No. 11.—Widening No. 3 road from Bakshi Budan Khan's street to Budubudike street. It is proposed to open ten new conservancy lanes to thoroughly conserve the area. They are consecutively numbered from two to eleven, and shown on the Block plan.

Block No. 12.—Opening three new conservancy lanes from Bakshi Budan Khan's street to Momthabooth street, and another across No. 9 new conservancy lane to Kaliaman temple street. Nine new conservancy lanes are also proposed to thoroughly conserve the area between Momthabooth street and Mandi market street. They are numbered 11, 2, 1, 3, 10, 12, 13, 5 and 6.

Block No. 13.—It is proposed to open out seven conservancy lanes between Bakshi Budan Khan's street and Berka Makan street.

Two new parallel conservancy lanes to new cross street No. III will also be opened as shewn on plan. They are denoted as Q. and A. E. C.

Six small conservancy lanes between the two new parallel conservancy lanes will also be opened. They are marked H. F. C. P. B. and D. on plan.

Block Nos. 18, 19, 21 and 22 and 29 and 30.—New conservancy lanes and roads in these Blocks were opened under the Scheme sanctioned for No. I Drainage area. The construction of drains only will be handled now.

Block No. 31.—The insanitary houses in this Block will be removed and the existing two conservancy lanes will be widened, and drains constructed, and two new conservancy lanes No. I and IV are proposed to be opened.

Block No. 24.—The two parallel lanes to Gouligar's street will be widened, and seven new conservancy lanes running north to south between Gouligar's street and Kamani Darwaza road will be opened.

Block No. 23.—The insanitary houses will be entirely removed, and a new road parallel to Gouligar street will run through the Block.

Block No. 25.—The chief work in this Block will be the removal of houses condemned as being unfit for occupation. Two new conservancy lanes running north to south between Davood Khan's street and Dee's road will be opened.

Block No. 9.—Seven conservancy lanes parallel to Ragi Mandi street and two lanes running north to south parallel to Kaliaman temple street will be opened.

Block No. 8.—This Block is proposed to be cut up into convenient small blocks to thoroughly drain the whole area. This necessitates the opening of six conservancy lanes east to west, and five from north to south.

Block No. 7.—Several condemned insanitary houses will be removed. The most important work will be making the new road from Mochi Ghaut street to Togari street marked No. 6. Four minor conservancy lanes will also be opened.

Block No. 4.—In this Block also as in the case of No. 7 all the houses condemned as being unfit for occupation will be removed.

Three new conservancy lanes will be opened at the thickly populated portion of the Block.

Block No. 5.—The chief work in this Block is to secure a good cart road along the Main drain which runs parallel to Mochi Ghaut street. Other needful nine conservancy lanes will also be opened, in addition to the removal of insanitary houses.

Block No. 6.—In this Block also, the foot-path along the "Main Drain" will be widened to allow conservancy carts. The thickly populated portions will be conserved by opening newly, fourteen conservancy lanes, suitably situated, as marked on plan.

Block No. 26.—A new conservancy lane parallel to Doddapete street marked (A) and another cross lane marked (B) will be made.

Block No. 27.—A new conservancy lane proposed in Block No. 26 marked (A) will be continued to the Railway Station road. A cross lane from Doddapete road to join the new conservancy lane will be made.

Block No. 28.—All the narrow houses facing the Doddapete road are proposed to be conserved by opening a new conservancy lane instead of allowing the sewage to enter the Main road. This lane will run between Doddapete Main road and Halladakeri street. A new road from Halladakeri road to the Church road through Normal School compound will be made, and the Main drain will run along the side of it.

Block No. 2.—This Block is the most thickly populated portion of the whole "Drainage area." Five conservancy lanes parallel to the Railway Station road, and five lanes across will be opened between Railway Station road and Hospital road. Properties will be acquired to open ten conservancy lanes as marked on plan, to conserve the portion between Hospital road and Ravai street.

Block No. 3.—The most important improvement in this Block will be to remove all the insanitary houses along the Sayaji Rao road. This area will be re-allotted for building convenient houses, with shops utilising the "Frontage" already built. A new conservancy lane will be opened parallel to the Railway Station road from Benki Nawab's street to Kaliaman temple street. Minor cross lanes marked A, C, D, E, G, H, and I will also be opened.

Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

Read—

1. Subject No. 133 of the Representative Assembly Proceedings of 1903, complaining that the same rate of wet assessment is charged on lands under large tanks as well as on those under small tanks.

2. Docket No. 23, dated the 7th July 1904, from the Survey and Settlement Commissioner in Mysore, to the Secretary to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, General and Revenue Departments.

His No. R. 4158, dated the 28th June 1904, inviting attention to Subject No. 133 of the Dasara Representative Assembly Proceedings for 1903.

With reference to the above, has the honor to state that although Government in the above order calls for no report, it appears advisable to contradict the statement made by the Representative of Subject No. 133. The rates of wet assessment are based upon classification carried out on the principles laid down in the Joint Report page 163 of Mysore Revenue Manual, Part I, and followed in the Survey Department. The wet rates under large tanks are in practice higher than those under small tanks, because the former usually possess in a higher degree those advantages which go to make up the classer's value of the water-supply. The statement that the same rate of wet assessment is charged on lands under large as well as small tanks is quite incorrect.

No. R. 872-4-1-3, DATED BANGALORE, 2ND AUGUST 1904.

ORDER THEREON.—1. Recorded.

2. Government direct that as there seems to be an erroneous impression on the point, this order be published as an official paper in the Gazette.

FAMINE FOODS:

THE NUTRITIVE VALUE OF SOME UNCULTIVATED FOODS USED BY BHILS DURING RECENT FAMINES.

(1).—PRELIMINARY.

In July 1901 we received from Mr. F. Noel Paton samples of some of the uncultivated foods collected and used by the Bhils during the famine, along with a series of valuable notes stating the mode of use, the quantities found necessary to maintain life, and other essential details. We have thus been afforded an opportunity of investigating the very interesting subject of the quantity and nature of some of the natural vegetable products which were found by the semi-savage Bhils to be sufficiently nutritious to sustain them through a long period of famine. The investigation may be of interest to the economist in showing the nutritive value of some drought resisting foods, and to the physiologist in affording some further information upon the question of the energy requirements of human beings, and of their powers of digesting and utilising coarse vegetable products.

The samples and notes were originally sent to Mr. Paton in response to an unofficial request to the Government which procured them through Mr. S. M. Barucha, P.C.S., District Deputy Collector, Panch Mahals, and Mr. F. B. Garda, Famine Officer, Dholka. The samples received numbered 18 in all, Mr. Barucha sending eight and Mr. Garda ten. In the following list we give the native names which were upon the specimens sent to us and also the proper botanical names of the plants, so far as we have been able to ascertain them, the latter having been supplied to us by Mr. Paton from the Indian Government, and kindly revised by the Director of the Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew. The identification of the various specimens has delayed the publication of the analyses.

So far as we are aware the only previous analytic study of foods of this class is that published by Professor Church, who in his "Foodgrains of India, 1896 with Supplement, 1901" (Chapman and Hall), refers to some of those now under consideration. When dealing with the composition of these foods we shall have to compare our results with his.

(3).—DESCRIPTION OF THE FOODS, AND THEIR MODE OF USE.

Samo (Panicum colonum).—A grain oval in shape with pointed ends. It has a green capsule which is covered by a roughish straw-coloured husk. It is neither very hard nor very gritty. It has a taste somewhat suggestive of oats. Mr. Garda's specimen contained some impurities, mostly bits of grass. Mr. Barucha's specimen was much purer.

Mr. Barucha writes:—"It is found in cultivable fields (especially black soil) that remained "uncultivated last year. The Samo collected by the Bhil women in fields is half mixed with "earth, from which, being a very small grain, it is not separated without a lot of trouble. "Pure Samo is collected just after the monsoon, when the seed has not yet fallen on the ground. "Hundreds of Bhils were seen last year from August to October going from field to field with a "basket and a flapper, and filling their baskets with Samo got direct from the waving grass by "means of the flapper. I send a sample of the flapper; though rudely prepared and of rough "materials, it well serves the Bhil's purpose. After October, when the grass was dried up, the

"Samo seeds fell off to the ground, and since then the only mode of collecting the seed was by "sweeping it off the ground. As said above, it was half mixed with earth; to clear it the "Bhils had first to pour it on the ground from a height of 3 or 4 feet, thus blowing off the "chaff; second to pound it with a pestle; and third, to winnow it. The result would be pure "Samo seed as sent in the sample. Generally out of the quantity collected, about half is the "real Samo, the other half being earth. This pure Samo is then ground, mostly by itself, and "sometimes mixed with maize or gram, if available. The flour is then baked into bread and "eaten with either chutney or onions, or some forest fruit or boiled leaves. Samo is a soft "grass seed, and is therefore considered by the Bhils not to have the same nutritive value as "maize. The Bhils, therefore, require a larger quantity of Samo than maize to satisfy their "hunger, viz., nearly half as much again. I have found that from 1½ to 2 lbs. of maize is daily "required for a working man of average health; the Samo required by the same man is from "2¼ to 3 lbs. Samo bread is sweet in taste and much relished by the Bhils, who consider it to "have 'cooling properties.' Those who are not used to it get diarrhœa at first, but later on "they thrive on it. Within two months of the Bhils commencing to use Samo, I was agreeably "surprised to see them everywhere fat and strong, there being few traces left of their hard "sufferings in the previous year."

Mr. Garda writes:—"'Samo' seed is obtainable about two months after it commences to "rain. It is gathered in good quantity (about one maund by a strong man), in the beginning, "viz., in September and October, by means of an oval-shaped frame-work made of bamboo or "wood, with cloth attached to it, and called 'Wanjee' or 'Dhanu.' In November it commen-"ces to fall off, and people gather it from the ground and continue to do so till the hot season "is over, when about three seers at the most is collected by a strong man. After it is brought "home it is exposed to the sun for a couple of days, and then rammed or thrashed. Then the "husks are separated. This process is repeated once or twice over, and the grain in its eat-"able condition is finally separated from the husks, and when 'Chhas' is available. 'Chhas' "or 'Rab' (Kanji) is prepared out of it, or the grain is ground and bread prepared out of the "flour. Samo grows mostly in black soil, and when cheap it can be obtained at two to three "maunds a rupee. Out of one maund about 18 seers of grain can be taken out. An adult "requires from 1½ to 2 seers of this grain a day for food. Even in years of plenty poor people "such as Dheds, Wagris, and Shangris resort to it, and high class Hindus make use of it on "the days of fasting. It is better in taste than any other wild grain, and is not found to be "so mnch injurious to the health as others. Those who are accustomed to it have been found "to be in good condition, while other people find it producing costiveness and lethargy. Samo "grass grows more thickly in black soil than in yellow, and is greatly relished by cattle."

Kodri.—This is husked Samo. It is a small hard grain without husk, light in colour, and with few evident impurities.

Mr. Barucha writes:—"Except Mali and Zinjroo all other grass-seeds can be made into "'Kodri,' as well as bread. Kodri is prepared by raking off the husks of Samo or Podru or "Samla-Seru by roughly grinding it. It is then cooked like rice with water and salt, and "eaten with pulse, if any, or chutney. It is called 'Rab,' or Ghena,' a half fluid food much "relished bv the Bhils. I send a sample of Kodri of Samo."

Mr. Garda sends no sample.

Amount of daily ration is not stated.

Podru (Panicum javanicum). Description.—A grain in all respects very similar to Samo.

Mr Barucha writes:—"'Podru,' or 'Kharkhadu,' is found in waste land, compounds, "below babul trees, and even in forests. It is collected in the same way as Samo, and cleaned "and prepared similarly. The same quantity is required to satisfy hunger. The only "difference between the two is that while Samo grows in cultivable fields, 'Podru' grows in "waste land and compounds, and is less sweet in taste."

Mr. Garda sends no sample.

Batterioo, Battair or Golio (Panicum sp ?).—A yellow grain of elongated shape, some with and some without capsules, mixed with two other grains, the one a brown grain resembling the yellow one in shape, the other a small, almost black seed, with hard resistant punctated capsule and very difficult to break. There are some impurities in the specimen consisting of seeds of other grasses and earthy matter.

Mr. Barucha sends no sample.

Mr. Garda writes:—"This grass-seed called 'Batterioo' or 'Golio' was unknown to the "people till the famine appeared; when it was resorted to by the poor people. They com-"mence to collect it from October and continue doing so till the monsoon sets in. In the "beginning of the season, the grass is cut and then thrashed, and the grain is collected. As "the time goes on the seed falls off the grass, and it is collected by means of sweeping the "ground. In the commencement, an adult gathers about 15 seers of the seed while in the latter "part of the hot season one is able to get only three or four seers after the dust is separated. "The grain is thrashed and the husks separated. Then it is rammed and prepared into 'Ghes' "or 'Rab' (Kanji), or ground into flour and bread is prepared of it. One requires about 2½ "seers a day to live upon. In taste it is similar to Samo but is not strengthening. However, "it is relished by the poor people.

"This Golio or Batterioo has generally a mixture of other kinds of seeds; the red seeds "in it are called 'Damro' and very small white grain in it called 'Charkalioo.' When cheap "it can be had two to three maunds a rupee."

Endoo Pendoo (Panicum sp?).—These seeds closely resemble Samo. Of it Mr. Garda writes:—"This seed is collected and made use of in the same way as Battair or Golio. An "adult repuires about 2½ seers (3⅓ lbs.) to keep him up. It has the taste of Golio and is not "strengthening."

Samla-seru (Panicum sp ?).—This specimen consists of small flat oval glistening seeds of a dark green colour with longitudinal lighter markings, which are easily crushed, and have a peculiar taste. It is contaminated by being mixed with other grains and with earthy particles.

Mr. Barucha writes:—"Is a small seed, dark in colour. It resembles the cultivated grain "Samli, just as Mali resembles Bavto. It is found only in hills and stony upland. It is collect-"ed in the same way as Samo and prepared by itself into bread which is palatable with milk. "The quantity required for satisfying the hunger of a working man is the same as Samo, viz., "from 2¼ to 3 pounds a day. It is, however, not found everywhere like Samo and is a rare "grass-seed."

Being a rare seed it seemed to us that to analyse it was hardly necessary.

Oroo Koru or Puchadioo (Panicum sp?).—Ooro Koru closely resembles Samo. Of it Mr. Garda writes:—"This wild grain is obtained only in a few villages, from October to the end "of summer. It was not known to the people before the famine appeared. One strong man "can gather about a maund a day in the beginning of the season, and about five seers in the "hot season when it gets scarce. It is thrashed and rammed and husks separated from the "grain. From one maund of these seeds only about 10 seers of grain is obtained. It is ground "into 'Ghos,' or 'Rab' (Kanji) is prepared from it. It is not strengthening."

We made no analysis of it.

Anchu Manchu (Eleusine Ægyptica).—A small brown grain like millet seed but rather smaller, hard and gritty. Our samples contains few impurities. Mr. Barucha's specimen is sent under the name of Mali.

Mr. Garda writes:—"This grain appears in October and is obtainable thoroughout the "open season. Before famine time it was unknown to the people. A strong man can collect "about 15 seers a day when abundant and about four when it gets scarce. From October to "January, people cut the Anki Manki grass, thrash it and take out the seed. After January "they collect it by means of sweeping the ground when it dwindles off. From black soil, seeds "black in colour, and from yellow soil, red in colour, are obtained. The grain is first rammed "and then ground, and bread prepared of the flour. An adult requires about 1½ seers a day. "It is not good in taste and one finds difficulty in chewing it as it is hard as sand, and people "have no liking for it. The after effects are bad, it is constipating; the abdomen gets large "and hard, and several times the urine of the eater stops. It was resorted to only this year "for want of any other eatable grain."

Mali or Manebhi (Eleusine Ægyptiaca).—Identical with the last, but with a considerable admixture of another grass seed, which in appearance resembles Samo, and a considerable proportion of earth.

Mr. Barucha writes:—"Mali or Manebhi is a very small red grass seed found only in "goradu waste soil. It is collected and cleaned like Samo, but has no husks. It is not mixed "with any other grass-seed, and it is made into bread, which assumes a reddish hue. It is like "the cultivated grain 'Bavto,' sweet in taste, said to be even sweeter than Samo, and strength "giving. It is much relished by the Bhils, who call it the best grass-seed for human food, but "it is not commonly found like Samo. Its growth is only in brown soil, and in small quanti-"ties, and cattle moreover are very fond of Mali grass. Its grass does not grow more than "three or four inches in height, while that of Samo and Podru goes up to three feet."

Zinjroo (Indigofera glandulosa).—Small, roughly spherical, dark green seeds, mottled with black, and looking not unlike minature plovers' eggs. They are very hard, and have a bright yellow kernel. It has a characteristic hottish taste.

Mr. Barucha writes:—"Zinjroo is a small, round seed, black and green in colour, and not "having husks like Samo or Podru. While both the latter grow on grass, Zinjroo grows on "small plants in winter in black soil whether cultivable or waste. It is collected in the same "way as maize crop, i. e., cut, stacked, dried, threshed and winnowed. It is ground into flour, "but it is so sticky that it has to be mixed with Samo before baking into bread. There should "be more Samo than Zinjroo in the mixture, or at least half to half, before good bread is made. "While Samo and Podru are said to be 'cool,' Zinjroo is considered by the Bhils to be 'hot.' "They do not like it, and fall back on it when there is nothing else to eat in the house. As "they say, it is simply for stuffing the belly without relish. Its nutritive qualities are inferior "to Samo. The quantity required for food is the same, but, as said above, it is seldom if ever "eaten by itself."

Mr. Garda sends no sample of it.

Kasaiya (Coix lachryma-Jobi).—Eliptical seeds, sharply pointed at one end, olive green to brown in colour, extremely hard, so much so that they cannot be broken between the teeth.

Their size is rather larger than ordinary barley. They contain a white kernel of great hardness and of no flavour.

Mr. Barucha writes:—"Kasaiya is a large seed collected from plants or shrubs that look "like reeds and grow on banks of nalas or streams. The seed is enclosed in a hard shell which "has to be broken with a rod or has to be roughly ground. If mixed with Samo or Maize it "can be turned into bread, but it is mostly cooked like rice. It tastes like wheat, and is con-"sidered nutritious. A pound and a half of this Kasaiya would suffice for a man per day, "but it is generally not used alone, and is not resorted to as long as Samo is to be had."

Ghitolas, Fruit of Poena or Kumplis (Nymphæa Lotus var. pubescens).—A poppy-like ovary, filled with small greyish brown seeds, with few impurities. The seeds have no marked taste, and are not very gritty.

Mr. Barucha sends no sample.

Mr. Garda writes:—"Ghitolas are the fruit of 'Poena,' or 'Kumplis,' (big white flowers, "smaller than lotus, growing in tanks). The seeds of this fruit are used in ordinary years "also as food by the Padharias, and other people living near the Nal-Kantha, and in the in-"terior of the Taluka. It is very often eaten in its raw state when the fruits are green, but "when they dry up, the seeds are taken out, ground, and prepared into bread. Some of the "people take it in the form of Kanji, after boiling it with water. About one seer of this food "is sufficient to keep one up. If more is taken it produces cold and cough."

Kanda Root—Poena or Ghitola or Kumplis (Nymphæa Lotus var pubescens).—It consists of a capsule about the size of a pigeon's egg, it is of irregular shape, it has a hard rough woody "husk, and at one end has a fringe of fine hair-like processes.

Mr. Garda writes:—"This Kanda is the root of Poena or Ghitola fruit plant, and is dug "out from the Nal tank, and other tanks also. These Kandas are baked or boild with water, "and then eaten by poor people with salt. It is better in taste than Bid, but has not the same "effect as Bid."

We made no analysis of Kanda.

Doda Flowers (Dregea volubilis).—Mr. Garda writes:—"This yellow powder is taken out "of 'Doda' a kind of flower growing in the village of Durgi and a few other villages in the "Dholka Taluka. People make use of it in prepairing 'Dhoklas' (small thick bread). It is "not injurious to health. An adult can keep himself up by taking 1½ seers of it a day at the "most."

Mr. Barucha sends no sample.

Theck Root (Cyperus bulbosus).—These oval seeds, which are obtained in the manner described by Mr. Garda, have the following characters. They are of about the size of barley, with a thin hard husk of a whitey-brown colour, which contains a somewhat hard but friable grain. No characteristic taste. In the sample, as received, there was a considerable amount of fine brown meal, which was evidently derived from the breaking up of some of the seeds.

Mr. Barucha sends no sample.

Mr. Garda writes:—"'Theck' is the root of certain grasses growing near the Nal tank "and on salt marsh in the Dholka Taluka. After it is dug out of the ground, the mud is re-"moved from it by washing it. It is then burnt, which process removes the black (thin) husks "from over it, and leaves the beautiful grain (as per sample No. 4). In all years and at all "times, except the monsoon, people in the Nal Kantha are in the habit of digging this root out, "as it is greatly prized even by people of superior classes for use on days of fasting. When "it is not sold in the Bazars, people grind it into flour and eat it in the form of bread, which "is very palatable. Some make use of it in the form of 'Ghes' or 'Rab' (Kanji). One can "collect about five seers of Theck a day, and an adult requires from 1½ to 2 seers of it to keep "him up. Theck has its bad effect too, as it is found costive, and too cold for the constitution. "Most of the Theck is sold by the diggers for equal amount of wheat or Bajri."

Bid, Root of Gunderda (Scirpus grossus var Kysoor?).—Masses of what appear to be the brown underground stems of a grass with rootlets adhering, and, in some cases, pieces of the above-ground grass stems.

Mr. Barucha sends no sample.

Mr. Garda writes:—"'Bid.' It is the root of 'Gunderda,' a sort of grass, and it is obtain-"able in any amount in the Nal tank, north-west portion of the Dholka Taluka.

"People commence with digging it out as soon as the water in the Nal tank begins to dry "up, and continue taking them out till it rains the next season.

"It is found in its raw state, mixed with clay (as per sample No. 1). It is thrashed for "removing the clay, the hairy roots are then burnt with their own grass, then they are again "thrashed and the roots (as per sample 1A) are collected. This process is repeated again to "completely remove the hair on the roots. The roots are then powdered by a hand or grinding "machine, and a sort of light yellow flower is sieved out of the powder and bread prepared out "of it.

"I submit the refined roots as well as the roots found from the soil in its raw state.

"There are professional eaters of this 'Bid' root and 'Ghitolas' (sample No. 2) called "Padharias living in some of the villages, i.e., Durgi, Meni, Sial, Donadthal, &c., near the Nal. "They live on it for half the year even in ordinary times. The 'Bid' root was unknown to "almost all the people of this Taluka except the Padharias and other people residing on the "Nal up to the famine year; when about three-fourths of the villages of the Dholka Taluka "and about 200 more of Sanand Viramgam and Dhanduka and of Katheawad States had to "resort to it for the preservation of their poor and cattle. The Padharias require of 'Bid' "food from 1½ to 2 seers per male and about 1¼ to 1½ seer per female to keep them up. This "food has been seen in their cases, to wonderfully keep up their health and constitutions. But "the other people, who resorted to it during the famine, perhaps not knowing the cleaning "process, have been seen by me to suffer a good deal by eating it. They have swollen feet and "hands, and enlarged abdomens. Some of them died from the effects after the rains; and "some managed to live and thrive on Samo and other grain seeds.

"On enquiry it appears that one seer of 'Bid' flour if mixed with half a seer of wheat or "barley flour, gives good nourishment to unaccustomed eaters of 'Bid.'"

Katchra.—This consists of a seed capsule and seeds resembling that of a poppy-like plant whose identity we do not know. Regarding its use along with grains, Mr. Barucha writes: "These grass seeds, coupled with forest produce which the Bhil well knows how to use, have "made a good substitute during the year for the maize, owing to the failure of the harvest. "Nearly a dozen varieties of forest produce are consumed by the Bhils, the most common "among them being Katchra, a wild fruit allied to Kakri, red flowers of the Simla tree, Omra "fruit, Timerva fruit, Pomad, Zarakhli, Kalli Regari, Fang, and Nalo. . . . I send a sample "of Katchra, the wild fruit which, being dried and stacked, is ordinarily used by the Bhils as "a vegetable with bread or rice."

We made no analysis of Katchra.

(4).—CHEMICAL COMPOSITION OF THE FOODS.

A.—Methods of Analysis.

The analyses were made under our supervision by Mr. Alfred Patterson, Chemical Assistant at the Laboratory of the Royal College of Physicians, Edinburgh. All analyses were made in duplicate and only accepted as correct when the two results closely agreed. The methods employed were as follows:—

1. True sample.—A fairly large sample was carefully ground and thoroughly mixed before a sample for analysis was taken.

2. Moisture.—A sample was dried at the temperature of 110° Centigrade until it became of constant weight; the difference between the weights before and after were taken as the amount of water in the sample.

3. Proteid.—This was estimated by making a nitrogen determination by Kjeldahl's method and multiplying the result by 6·25. In the case of Zinjroo it was checked in the manner described under that substance.

4. Facts and Oils.—These were estimated by means of Sohxlet's method.

5. Fibre or Cellulose.—Five grammes were taken and boiled for half an hour with 1·25 per cent. H_2SO_4; the beaker was then filled to the top with water, allowed to stand 12 hours and the fluid was siphoned off, the deposit washed and then boiled for half an hour with 1·25 per cent. KHO and washed in the same way. It was then collected on a weighed ash free filter paper, dried at 110° C. and weighed, then ignited and the ash weighed. By subtraction the woody fibre was determined.

7. Carbohydrates other than Cellulose.—These were estimated by difference, the weights of all the estimated constituents were added and the total deducted from the total weight of the sample, the difference being taken as the amount of these carbohydrates.

8. Digestibility of the Proteids.—This was tested in Samo, Battairioo and Zinjroo by ascertaining how much of the proteid was undissolved after prolonged peptic digestion. (See page 21).

9. Digestibility of Carbohydrates.—This was tested in the same specimens by ascertaining how much of the carbohydrate was converted into glucose by prolonged digestion with taka-diastase. (See page 21).

B.—Results of Analysis.

In Table 1, the composition of the various samples analysed is given, and for purposes of comparison the composition of some common cereal foods is added.

† Sample 1 A (purified root).

The above table shows that these famine foods may be arranged in three groups (1) those with proteid more or less in a proportion similar to that in ordinary cereal foods; (2) those with more proteid than ordinary cereal food; and (3) those with less proteid than ordinary cereal food.

1. The first group contains :—

(i) The seeds of the various species of Panicum. These closely resemble in composition such a cultivated cereal as barley but differ from it in containing less soluble carbohydrates and more fats, fibre, and ash.

Professor Church writes of the Panicum colonum under different names from those reported to us by Mr. Garda and Mr. Barucha. The names he uses are Shama Millet, Oplismonus colonus (Kunth), Shama, Sarwak and Shamak. From his description and from his using the name of Panicum colonum we have no doubt but that what he writes about is the same as the Samo submitted to us. He says:—"This millet, sometimes called 'Wild Rice,' or 'Jungle Rice' "is a poor food; it is used, however, in some places where it grows freely (e.g. in Champaran) "by a considerable number of labourers as a usual article of diet. It is very good fodder-grass." He gives the following analysis of the seeds :—

Water	12·0
Albuminoids	9·6
Starch	74·3
Oil	·6
Fibre	1·5
Ash	2·3

His specimen gave a smaller percentage than ours of proteids, fats, fibre, and ash and a greater amount of carbohydrates. Since these last are calculated by difference the discrepancy between our figures is obviously the result of the higher percentage of the other substances in our specimen. Our specimens were analysed as received by us and the high fibre and ash results are probably due to the persistence of the husk and to a certain admixture with earth due to the mode of collection.

(ii). The seeds of Eleusine Ægyptiaca, of which two specimens were received, that from Mr. Garda being labelled Anchu Manchu, and that from Mr. Barucha as Mali or Manchi. The latter contained a manifest admixture with earth which it was impossible to separate and which accounts for the very large ash. An attempt was made to separate this by blowing, but the ash was only reduced from 36·95 per cent. to 21·04 per cent.

(iii). The seeds of Nymphæa lotus, Ghitolas, and

(iv). The pollen of Dregia volubilis—Doda flower.

In these four foods the proteids vary from 8·4 in Mali to 14·62 in Doda flower. They have from ·78 to 7·6 per cent of oil. Ghitolas is the poorest in fat, having only ·78 per cent, while Doda flower is the richest with 7·6 per cent. Soluble carbohydrates are found to be in widely varying amount; Ghitolas is the richest with 66·78 per cent: Mali, the poorest, with only 38·97 per cent.

The small proportion of carbohydrates in these foods results in their having an energy-value smaller than that of the ordinary cereals. Mr. Garda's specimens of Anchu Manchu and Kodri alone have an energy-value larger than that of barley meal, which has the smallest energy-value of those ordinary cereals included in the table. Other points of difference between these eight foods and the average cereal are, that they as a class generally contain more fibre, and a large percentage of ash, from 4·58 to 36·95 per cent., while the cereals have from ·4 to 2·6 per cent. This is to be explained by the great admixture of sand and earth particles with many of the grains due to the method in which they are collected.

2. The second group, characterised by being richer in proteid than the ordinary cereals, contains two examples: the seeds of Indigofera-glandulosa, Zinjroo and the seeds of Coix lachryma-Jobi, Kasaiya. The former, as will be seen in the table, has no less than 36 per cent. of proteid, an amount three times larger than that found in the average cereals. To determine how much of the nitrogen was in the form of extractives and how much in proteids, 3·27 grms. of Zinjroo were repeatedly extracted with alcohol, but only ·067 per cent. of nitrogen was thus dissolved, only 1·1 per cent. of the whole, so that practically all the nitrogen is in the form of proteids. In containing this large proportion of proteid, Zinjroo is in composition more like one of the pulses, as peas or lentils, than like a cereal. In addition to being exceptionally rich in proteid, Zinjroo contains a fair amount of fat, and a relatively small amount of carbohydrates.

Professor Church writes of Zinjroo under the following names:—Indigofera glandulosa, Indigofera frumentacea, Vekheariyo, Barbed, Gavancha Malmandi, Baragadam, Barapatalu, and Broomidapu. He states:—"The seeds of this species of Indigofera greatly resemble in "alimentary value those of Indigofera cordifolia and Indigofera linifolia, but are slightly "superior in this respect (i.e. high proteid value) to the former though inferior to the latter. "All three kinds, it will be seen, are amongst the most nitrogenous of all seeds, even amongst "the pulses, being excelled only by the lupine." He gives the following analysis:—

Water	8·2
Albuminoids	31·9
Carbohydrates	46·7
Oil	2·2
Fibre	7·8
	13576.

This analysis corresponds closely with ours, except in that we find the proteid value somewhat higher, and the carbohydrate value correspondingly less. With his remark as to the proteid value being exceptional we concur, not knowing any other vegetable food that has so large an amount of proteid in its composition. As already stated, we ascertained that only a trivial amount of the nitrogen was in the form of extractives which could be dissolved in alcohol.

Kasaiya.—Our analyses as well as those of Dr. Church show that this is a food specially rich in proteids and fats. When separated from its very hard husk it should form a food of great value, especially as its energy-value is the highest of all the foods studied.

Professor Church writing of this food says:—"Throughout Assam and in the eastern fron-"tier lands of India, this coarse cereal constitutes an important food of the hill tribes, replacing "to some extent the millet of Northern and Southern India. . . . The grains of wild kinds "are exceedingly hard and are used as beads, those of the cultivated variety are much softer "and more easily husked."

He gives the following analyses of two varieties:—

Water	13·2	14·8
Albuminoids	18·7	16·6
Starch	58·3	60·1
Oil	5·2	5·8
Fibre	1·5	0·9
Ash	2·1	1·8

3. The third group characterised by being poor in proteid contains two members, Theck Root and Bid Root. They both contain much less proteid than any of the other foods included in the table, they both have only a small amount of fat, and both have a large amount of soluble carbohydrate. They both more nearly resemble in composition dissicated potato or other dried bulbs than they do cereals.

C.—Special Characteristics of certain of these Foods.

In the reports of Mr. Barucha and Mr. Garda certain special characteristics of some of these foods are noted, many of them having distinct pharmacological actions. The principle of these are noted.

The grains of the different species of Panicum, as well as Doda flower all appear to be free of any toxic action.

While according to Mr. Barucha the seeds of Eleusine Ægyptiaca, Mali are harmless, and amongst the most valued of the grains, Mr. Garda reports of the same plant as Anchu Manchu that the taste is not good, that it is so bad that even after grinding and baking it is difficult to masticate, that it is constipating and produces flatulence, and that its use is sometimes followed by suppression of urine. Such a description is suggestive of distinct toxic action.

Zinjroo.—Mr. Barucha reports that alone it cannot be used for making bread, that it is reported by the Bhils to be "heating;" and that it "stuffs the belly without relish." These properties may be ascribed to its composition. In Zinjroo carbohydrates are to proteid as 1 to 1, while in oatmeal they are as 4 to 1, and in wheatmeal nearly as 6 to 1.

Theck Root.—Mr. Garda reports that "Theck Root has its bad effects as it is too costive and too cold." These two ill effects can both be explained by reference to its composition. The costive action may be due to its apparently containing very little indigestible matter, the small amount of proteid and the small amount of fibre warranting that opinion. Its being reported to be "too cold" may be ascribed to its small proteid value, for the deficiency of proteid would almost certainly lead to a poor condition of the general nutrition, and that would in popular language be described as being "too cold."

Bid Root.—Mr. Garda reports that some natives habitually live on it for about six months of the year and thrive on it, while those natives who used it for a first time during the recent famine suffered a good deal, getting swollen feet and hands and even ultimately dying of the evil effects. Mr. Garda attributes this difference to the more skilful preparation in the hands of the habitual Bid eater. The root when found is covered by hairs, and it is to them that Mr. Garda attributes the toxic actions. Another explanation is suggested by a study of its composition, and that is, that the ill effects are due to chronic proteid starvation. Bid contains a very small quantity of proteid, and, were a man restricted to its use, it is probable that the want of an efficient supply of proteid would result in a general lowering of nutrition. The absence of evil effects in habitual Bid eaters will be referred to later.

Ghitolas.—Mr. Garda reports that the use of these seeds as a food is limited to one seer per diem as more "produces cold and cough." This description by Mr. Garda is suggestive that Ghitolas have a distinct toxic action which generally resembles that of the iodides. To what this is due we have not investigated. It is noteworthy because this toxic action prevents Ghitolas being used in sufficient quantity to supply a full day's ration.

(5.)—THE VALUE OF THE DAILY RATION OF SOME OF THE FOODS.

Mr. Garda and Mr. Barucha state how much of certain of these foods is required by a man per diem, and on their statements we construct the tables which are given below. We cannot hold ourselves responsible for the accuracy of those observers as to the daily ration, and we think it right to point out that there are considerable differences between their estimations. For instance, both observers write regarding Samo; the one assesses the daily ration at 2½-3 lbs. (1022-1363 grammes), the other at 1½-2 seers (700-933 grammes). Further Mr. Barucha's estimates are all higher than Mr. Garda's. Mr. Barucha expresses quantity in pounds, Mr. Garda in seers. We might have ascribed this discrepancy to our having mistaken the value of the seer referred to, had we not official information that the seer under question was the weight of 40 rupees, which is 1 lb. 3 oz. Troy, or 466·5 grammes, or rather more than 1 lb. Avoirdupois.

Another and even greater difficulty in discussing the results shown in the tables is to formulate a standard for comparison. Such a standard should be based on what is known to be the food requirement of the particular class of people under consideration. A knowledge of European and American dietaries, however, is of some service in this respect. We know that the labourer in Europe or America, doing moderate work, requiries a diet containing about 118 grammes of proteid, and yielding 3,500 Calories of energy, to properly nourish him. We know that a food requirement varies with the size of the individual, with work, and, to some extent, with climatic surroundings. Now the Bhils are smaller than the average European labourer; in famine time they are presumably not working hard, and they are living in a warmer climate, hence it is safe to assume that their standard of requirement is less than that of the European labourer. Taking the average Bhil man at 20 per cent. lighter than the European, 120 versus 145 lbs., the energy value of his standard diet will be 20 per cent. less than 3,500 Calories, i. e., 2,800 Calories. Assuming that his work is essentially light, the study of American diets shows that a further 20 per cent. may be deducted further reducing the standard to 2,240 Calories.

If the proteid in the diet is to bear the same relation to the energy value as it does in the European labourer's diet we conclude that the Bhil's daily requirement of proteid is 77 grammes. The following information given us by a tea planter in Ceylon throws light upon the question. He states that the coolies average about 120 lbs. in weight, and that the allowance of rice on which they live is 64 lbs. a month, i.e., 29 kilos, or, roughly, 1 kilo a day.

According to our informant they do not eat the whole of this, but exchange some for Chilis and other flavouring ingredient. One kilo of rice daily contains—proteids 80 grammes, fat 3 grammes, carbohydrate 790 grammes, and yields 3,595 Calories of energy. Upon this the coolies are capable of doing very hard work day after day such as carrying a weight of 60 lbs. for 30 miles a day.

But the digestibility of the food is a factor which must be taken into consideration in fixing a standard of requirement. Hence the mere fact that these foods are purely vegetable necessitates that the supply of energy should be in excess of that required in a mixed diet. But vegetable foods vary in their digestibility, even when cooked in the same way, and in deciding on the value of these famine foods as a source of energy it was necessary to compare their availability with that of some well-known cereal. The cereal selected was wheat, and with this, three of the more important foods were compared Samo, Zinjroo, and Battairioo.

The method of testing the digestibility was as follows: 5 grammes of the food, finely triturated in a mortar, were taken and boiled for 30 minutes with 300 c.c. of water, allowed to cool and then 10 c.c. of liquor pepticus and 0·2 per cent. hydrochloric acid were added and the mixture kept at a temperature of 38° centigrade for four hours. After this, the mixture was made alkaline by the addition of carbonate of sodium and 5 grammes of taka-diastase added, and then again kept at a temperature of 38° centigrade for 3 hours. During the course of digestion the mixture was, by a mechanical means, kept in constant agitation. After these digestions the undigested proteid in the insoluble residue was estimated by determining the nitrogen by Kjeldahl's method, and from it the digested proteid was estimated by difference. The digested carbohydrate was estimated from the amount of glucose found to exist in the filtrate. For comparison we applied these methods to wheatmeal. The results are shewn in Table 2.

Relative Digestibility of Wheat, Samo, Battairioo, and Zinjroo.

—	Proteid.		Carbohydrate.
	Per cent. in Food.	Per cent. Digested.	Per cent. in Food.	Per cent. Digested.
Wheat	10·18	84	71·0	45
Samo	10·68	33	51·2	26
Battairioo	11·90	34	47·89	30
Zinjroo	36·12	83	38·75	28

The close correspondence in the results with the two very similar grains, Samo, and Bottairioo, vouches for the accuracy of this method for comparative purposes.

Taking the percentage of proteids and carbohydrates in these substances, and the amount digested in these experiments, it appears that the availability of the proteids and carbohydrates after such a uniform digestion may be represented as follows:—

Available proteids and carbohydrates in 100 parts of—

	Proteids.	Carbohydrates.
Wheat	8·5	31·9
Samo	3·5	13·3
Battairioo	4·4	14·4
Zinjroo	29·9	10·9

The relative available energy may be calculated from the above table so far as proteids and carbohydrates are concerned—

Wheat	166
Samo	69
Battairioo	77
Zinjroo	167

As a source of available energy from these constituents Zinjroo may be considered equal to wheat, while the two grains of Panicum are of less than half the value.

The lowness of the available energy of Samo is supported by the statement of Mr. Barucha that 2¼ to 3 lbs. of Samo, with a theoretical energy value of 3,086 to 4,116 (mean 3,601) Calories is required by men who can subsist on 1½ to 2 lbs. of maize, yielding from 2,467 to 3,290 (mean 2,878) Calories.

Another factor affecting the availability of such food is that excessive use of a single cereal seems to lower its digestibility. One of us, when investigating the feeding of prisoners in Scottish prisons, found that, when oatmeal was used in moderate amount it was readily digested but when moderation was exceeded the digestibility was greatly reduced. (See Dunlop on Prison Dietaries, Laboratory Reports of the Royal College of Physicians, Edinburgh, Volume VIII, 1900, also as Parliamentary Report, C.9,514, 1899.)

In taking 77 grammes of proteid and 2,240 Calories of energy as probably about the minimum requisite for the famine diet of Bhils, we intend to imply that such a diet is the smallest which will theoretically keep a man under the particular circumstances and doing essentially light labour in proper nutrition. But in taking this standard we do not allow for the probable indigestibility of these foods used by themselves, and we are not surprised to find, that of many of these foods the amount which has by experience been found necessary is considerably above our standard.

In Table 3 and 4 we show the food values of the daily rations of these foods. From them we exclude those foods the use of which is restricted by toxic action.

In the above tables the difference between daily requirement as estimated by Mr. Barucha and as estimated by Mr. Garda is very evident. The average of Mr. Barucha's estimates of all of these is worth 121 grammes of proteid and 3,340 Calories of energy, that of Mr. Garda's 71·7 grammes of proteid and 2,568 Calories. Mr. Garada's estimates being the more comprehensive are taken first. We consider them seriatim.

1. Samo.—Average ration 816 grammes, Proteid, 87·1, Fat, 42·5, Carbohydrate, 417·7, Calories, 2452. The value of the daily ration of this food very closely corresponds with what, on hypothetical grounds, we have stated as a propable standard. Were Samo as easily digested as other cereals, it seems that the mean daily ration as estimated by Mr. Garda, viz., 1¾ seers or 816 grammes might be sufficient to keep a small man doing essentially light work in proper nutrition. The energy value of the ration is somewhat above that of the standard but the consideration of the relatively small availability of Samo renders it probable that the ration of Samo is to be regarded rather as just sufficient to maintain life than to support even light labour.

2. Battairioo.—Ration 1,166 grammes, Proteid, 138·7, Fat, 42·0, Carbohydrate, 558·4, Calories, 3,248. The value of this ration of this food is very considerably larger than both our standard and the value of the Samo ration. Why this should be so is not evident from chemical analysis. A 2½-seer ration of this food has a food value of about 33 per cent. more than that of the daily ration of Samo. The bulk of the diet is so great that in all probability the full ration of 2½ seers, 1,166 grammes could not be used.

3. Endoo Pendoo.—Average ration 1,166 grammes Proteid, 138·7, Fat, 48·6, Carbohydrate, 543·3, Calories, 3,241. In all particulars this closely resembles the ration of Battairioo.

4. Theck Root.—Ration 816 grammes, Proteid 18·5, Fat, 4·7, Carbohydrate, 623, Calories, 2,880. Mr. Garda assumes the daily ration as the same as for Samo, namely, 1½ to 2 seers, Chemical analysis, however, shows that it compares unfavourably with Samo because it contains only a very small percentage of proteid. The proteid value of Mr. Garda's daily ration is 80 per cent. less than our standard of 77 grammes and it cannot be considered as a satisfactory food when taken alone. A note in Mr. Garda's statement regarding this food shows that it is not found very satisfactory, for he says that it is found "too cold for the constitution." From the composition of Theck we conclude that it is ill adapted for use as a single food, because were the ration increased to the full eating powers of a man, even then the proteid allowance would be so small as to be decidedly insufficient. Theck, however, is a food possessed of large energy value, and if used in combination with some proteid rich food, as, for instance, one of the pulses, or Zinjroo, or Kasaiya, it is an excellent basis for a diet.

5. Bid Root.—Ration 816 grammes, Proteid, 35·6, Fat, 8·1, Carbohydrate, 622·1 Calories, 2,771. This food resembles Theck in having a small proteid value and a large energy value, it, however, differs from theck in that its proteid value is not so extremely small. We had no hesitation in asserting that the proteid value of theck root was so small as to prevent its use as an efficient single food. In Bid the proteid ration is 50 per cent. below the standard, so that it too is unsuitable as a single food, but like theck if combined with a proteid rich food it would make an excellent basis of a diet.

There are two interesting points regarding the daily ration of Bid mentioned in Mr. Gardas report, the one a comparision of the male and female requirements, the other the fact of the existence of persons who annually live on this food for a great part of the year. The proportion which the food requirement of a women bears to that of a man is a matter which has been carefully studied by Dr. Atwater of the United States Board of Agriculture, and he has assessed it as 8 to 10, or, in other words, that a proper ration for a woman is four-fifths of that of a man. Now it is certainly of interest to note that Mr. Garda had from quite independent observation assessed these rations in the same proportion, or at all events in as nearly the same proportion as his weights permit of, for he rightly does not commit himself to small fractions of the seer. This observation is of special value in enabling us to place confidence in Mr. Gardas other observations.

The other special point mentioned was the existence of habitual Bid eaters. Mr. Garda's statement (vide page 13) appears to indicate that the use of Bid by these people is often combined with the use of other foods, e.g., ghitolas, wheat, barley, all of which have greater proteid values. However, Mr. Garda certainly indicates that Bid can be, and is, used as a single food for long periods without apparent harm. If this is so it is a matter of scientific importance, as it affords a good observation of how small the daily allowance of proteid can be reduced without causing much, if any, harm, and if properly corroborated it would be accepted by physiologists as a valuable indication of the requsite minimum daily proteid allowance for health.

6. Doda Flower.—Ration 700 grammes, proteid 102·3, Fat, 532, Carbohydate, 287·6, Calories, 2,094. Of the non-toxic foods Mr Garda selects this as being capable of nourshing a man properly with the smallest ration. Factors which may explain this special value of Doda Flower as a food are the high percentages of proteid and fat which it contains. The actual proteid value of the ration is in excess of our hypothetical standard, while its energy value approximates to that standard, being only 7 per cent. below. That Mr. Garda is able to report that so small a ration can properly nourish a man, and that we find that that small ration very nearly satisfies our hypothetical standards, are sufficient to warrant the opinion that Doda Flower is an excellent food.

Three of Mr. Barucha's daily rations are included in Tables 3 and 4, these are the rations of Samo and Padru and Kasaiya. His estimations are higher than those of Mr. Garda. In writing of Samo he estimates the daily ration as fully 40 per cent. higher than Mr. Garda does and his estimate shows a diet of about 50 per cent. higher than our standard. Similarly with Podru, his daily ration is found to have a food value much in excess of the average of Mr. Garda's estimates and much in excess of our standards. We do not pretend to be able to explain this discrepancy, but it is possible that Mr. Barucha has made his estimate of the amount of these foods the people will eat if they can get them, while Mr. Garda in most cases has estimated the amount they are able to subsist on during a period of famine.

In the case of Kasaiya his estimate is not so high and approaches more to our standard. From the proportion of the various constituents it appears to us essentially a valuable food, and the fact that it must be completely freed from the hard husk before it is used, probably renders it easily digestible and largely available.

Showing food value of daily rations of certain foods the use of which appears to be limited by their toxic properties.—

Food.	Authority.	Ration.		Proteid.	Fat.	Carbohydrate.	Calories.
		Seers.	Grains.
Ghitolas...	Garda ...	1 seer ...	466	43·3	3·6	31·1	1,486
Anchu Manchu ...	" ...	1½ seers ...	700	90·1	14·6	443·2	2,342

7. Ghitolas.—The ration, as limited by the toxic action of the food, is too small for proper nutrition. Both the proteid and energy values are less than our standard, and less than those of the rations of non-toxic foods such as Samo and Doda Flower. Consequently Ghitolas, as a food, is of more limited value than others included in this report.

8. Anchu Manchu.—From chemical analysis it would appear that the ration of this food is ample. The apparent food value exceeds that of our standard and that of other foods. Its possible toxic effects may make it an undesirable food, but in the light of what Mr. Barucha says of it under the name of Mali, in all probability this is of little moment.

9. Zinjroo.—As this is seldom, if ever, eaten alone it is unnecessary to report on it as a single food. It should, however, form a most valuable addition to some of the other foods in which the proteids are small in amount and not readily digestible, since we find that its proteids are as fully digested as those of wheat.

10. Kodri.—The food value of Kodri still remains for consideration. Our reason for excluding it from tables 3 and 4, is that neither of the reporters, Mr. Garda nor Mr. Barucha, have stated its daily ration. This being so, all we can do is to state what, in our opinion, should be minimum allowance.

It differs from the other foods submitted in not being a single grain, but a preparation that can be made from other grains, Mali and Zinjroo excepted. The sample submitted was made from Samo, and was, in fact, Samo without part of the husk. The result of this manufacture is to increase both the proteid and energy values, and consequently an efficient diet can be got from a smaller ration of Kodri than from Samo. Calculation shows that a diet of 670 grammes (about 1½ lbs. or rather less than 1½ seers) will yied 94 grammes of proteid and 2,425 calories of energy, and thus be fully equivalent to a daily ration of 816 grammes of Samo.

(6)—GENERAL CONCLUSIONS.

1. Many of these food-stuffs appear to be well adapted for human food, and of these Samo, Battairioo, Doda Flower, Kasaiya, Podru, and Kodri appear to be the best.

2. Ghitolas, Anchu Manchu, and Zinjroo have a more limited use as toxic properties have been ascribed to them.

3. Bid and Theck root, from their poverty in proteid, are not well adapted for use as single foods.

4. A daily ration of 1 lb. 13 oz. Avoirdupois, or 1¾ seers or 816 grammes of the more nutritious foods, should theoretically be sufficient to maintain a small man of about 120 lbs. weight, doing light work and living in a warm climate.

5. The daily ration may be reduced to 1 lb. 9 ozs. or 1½ seers or 700 grammes when Doda Flower, Kodri, or Kasaiya are the foods used.

MEMORANDUM.

Government having directed a reprint to be made of the list of wild plants and vegetables, used as food by the people in famine times, with the Telugu synonyms and the additions noted in Proceedings of the Board of Revenue, No. 3121, dated 3rd July 1877, the following revised list is published, as desired by Government.

(Signed) W. R. CORNISH, F.R.C.S.,
Sanitary Commissioner for Madras.

From Surgeon-Major J. SHORTT, M.D., Inspector of Vaccination, Madras Presidency, to the Sanitary Commissioner of Madras, dated 3rd May 1877, No. 263.

I have the honor to submit a list of most of the wild plants, their roots, leaves, fruits or seeds that are eaten by the poor during seasons of drought and famine. I give both the scientific, Tamil and Telugu names in the list, believing that it may prove of interest just now.

2. I commenced the collection first during a visit to Ganjam in 1870, and have to thank G. H. Ellis, Esq., and J. G. Thompson, Esq., the then Collector and Judge of that district who kindly at my request procured for me several specimens for identification. Since that I have been adding to the number, and during a tour to the Bellary, Kurnul, and Cuddapah Districts in December 1876, at the onset of the present famine, and in the North-Aroct and Salem Districts during 1877, I collected further information.

3. The list is alphabetically arranged; many of the leaves and young shoots of those used as greens are much more frequently used as Calavay Keeray or mixed greens. This is a favorite mode of using them at all seasons, and they are in great repute even among well-to-do people. Women collect the wild greens both as an amusement and occupation, adding at the same time an additional dish to the family meal. Many European and East Indian families are partial to them, as they are said to be healthy and to have a slight laxative action on the bowels that they will frequently send their female servants out to collect them.

4. The tender pith and leaf-bud of the Hedge Aloe is only eaten by the poor from great pressure of hunger, as it is unwholesome and causes dysentery and diarrhœa.

5. Some of the Arum tribe that are used on these occasions are not only unwholesome but poisonous; to avoid their deleterious effects they are repeatedly boiled ere eating. Of the various fruits they are eaten ripe as they come into season. The Banian, Peepul, and country fig furnish food not only to the poor people but to cattle also. The kernel of the mango and the tamarind stone are converted into meal and cooked into porridge or baked into cakes, but as they contain a large proportion of tannin they are not healthy and are only resorted to during seasons of scarcity. The bamboo seed furnishes a kind of rice, which is generally collected by the poor during the season at all times to keep them in food. In most jungles there is always a succession of bamboo in seed every year. The fruit of the prickly-pear is eaten ripe; sometimes the green fruits are boiled. The tender leaves would furnish good vegetable for curry but is not often resorted to as the prickly-pear possesses sub-acid or anti-scorbutic properties; it is very beneficial to the health both of man and beast. To Mr. H. S. Thomas, the Collector of Tanjore, the credit is due of first suggesting and subsequently demonstrating practically its value as cattle fodder by feeding his own cattle on it and exhibiting the same in public, thus proving its utility and it has been introduced to public notice by Messrs. Harvey and Sabapathy of Bellary since. It has not met with general acceptance in consequence of the trouble and difficulty of freeing the leaves of their sharp spines, but there is a spineless variety—Opuntia delenii or Nopaul with red flowers—which is met with about Madras. I remember seeing lots of it growing about the village of Karanguli, in the District of Chingleput, some years ago. It would be worth while introducing this cactus into the several districts to form cattle fodder not only during seasons of scarcity, but at all other times.

NOTE.—This variety of Opuntia was introduced many years ago by the late Dr. James Anderson to feed the cochineal insect. Dr. Anderson used to supply Her Majesty's ships-of-war in the Madras roads with the green leaves, which in those days were used as an anti-scorbutic, after being boiled as an ordinary green vegetable.
W. R. C.

The Guazuma tomentosa, or Bastard Cedar, was introduced into Southern India from South America very many years ago, to be cultivated for supplying cattle with fodder; they are met with about Madras. The woody seeds are sweet from containing sugar, and they are eaten by the poor during seasons of scarcity, but cattle are partial to both leaves and fruits. This tree also yields good fibre, and its extensive cultivation into the several districts is well worthy of attention with a view to supply fodder for cattle during seasons of scarcity. The Bassia, of which there are two varieties, from the fleshy corolla of which most of the semi-wild tribes distil their arrack, the flowers being sweet tasted are eaten raw, boiled or roasted, and the ripe fruits during the season. The kernels furnish a coarse oil, which is used as food. The palmyra tree is too well known for the various useful products it furnishes. The fusiform root of the germinating stone is boiled and sold in the bazaars during the season as the palmyra tubers or Pannei Kulungu, this is also converted into meal, and the stones of the fruit are carefully collected and put down to germinate for the purpose of securing the roots.

I will not extend these remarks further as the parts used and the mode in which they are prepared are given opposite each plant.

NOTE.—Since this letter was written I have been to the North Arcot District on a tour of inspection, and at the Village of Polur in that district saw several large clumps of the Nopaul or Nonspinous cactus growing in a tope. The Tahsildar being absent, I sent for the Sheristadar or Sub-Magistrate, and pointed out the Nopaul to him. I brought with me several specimens of the young plant, and, on receiving a note from Mr. Fernandez of the Government Office on the subject, I sent these plants to him to present to the Chief Secretary to Government.

At Vellore near the toll-gate, leading towards the Central Jail, I also saw several young plants of the Nopaul growing in a hedge with the common Spinous cactus.

In Madras there is a fine specimen of the Nopaul to be seen in a House No. 31, on the High Road, Royapuram, and another in the compound of Trinity Chapel, John Pareira's, both these plants were with flower and fruit when seen by me about two months ago.

2. Docket No. 4640—L. F. 210-93, dated the 27th May 1904, from the Secretary to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, General and Revenue Department enquiring what amount would be a fair remuneration to the Municipality for services rendered to the Madras Railway Company under the heads 'Water-supply' and 'Lighting' and whether the question of conservancy may be considered as settled by the payment of Rs. 15 per mensem by the Company.

Resolution.—The Board after considering all the aspects of the question and especially the early introduction of the Electric lighting and the possible enhancement of the water-rate, decide that a lump sum of Rs. 1,200 per annum will be a fair remuneration to the Municipality for the services rendered to the Madras Railway Company, under the heads 'Water-supply' and 'Lighting' for the next ten years commencing from 1st July 1904. The fees for the use of excess water will be separately levied and credited to the Public Works Department. They further decide that the question of extra conservancy may be considered as settled by the payment of Rs. 15 per mensem by the Company, provided the service is limited to one cart only.

3. Government Proceedings No. 4706-10—L. F. 43-98, dated the 4th June 1904, passing orders as to the nature of adjustments to be made in the case of several advances and grants made by Government from time to time for opening out the new extensions and for the improvement of the Bangalore City in general, and appointing a Committee consisting of the Comptroller, the Deputy Commissioner and the President of the Bangalore City Municipality, for the purpose of examining the question of resources of the Municipality and the required expenditure and to suggest proposals to maintain a healthy equilibrium.

Resolution.—The Board unanimously acknowledge with gratitude, the liberal treatment by Government in wiping off the accounts the large expenditure incurred in opening out the congested parts of the City and in the formation of the two new extensions.

4. Government Proceedings No. 4720-3—L. F. 37-99, dated the 4th June 1904, directing that from and after the year 1903-04, the entire revenue from water-tax and tolls, subject to a minimum contribution of Rs. 30,000 per annum, should be assigned from Municipal Funds towards the annual maintenance charges of the water-works.

Resolution.—The Board are of opinion that the Government may be respectfully approached to re-consider the present order and to grant their original request, that of limiting the annual contribution to Rs. 30,000 only as otherwise the most useful and urgent works of even ordinary nature will have to lie over indefinitely for want of funds. The concession craved for will also enable the Board to pay Rs. 27,782-12-11 the cost of completing the work alluded to in para 3 of Government Proceedings No. 4706-10—L. F. 43-98, dated 4th June 1904.

5. Government Proceedings No. 3855-8—L. F. 47-96, dated the 7th April 1904, regarding the selection of suitable sites for building the Municipal School.

Resolution.—Approved pending the revision of the scale.

No. 2831—42.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Home Department (Public), under date Calcutta, the 8th December 1899.

RESOLUTION.

The Secretary of State for India has brought to the notice of the Government of India that it not infrequently happens that natives of India, students or others, who have proceeded to England, desire to obtain passports to enable them to travel to foreign countries in which the possession of a passport is necessary or desirable, and that difficulty often arises from want of evidence to show that the applicant is a British subject and therefore entitled to a passport. Appeals for assistance are also frequently addressed to His Lordship by destitute Indians, who desire to return to their country, and by students who, owing to embarrassed circumstances, are unable to complete their course of education.

2. In order to enable the Secretary of State to deal with such cases satisfactorily, the Governor General in Council has decided that it is necessary to press upon Indian students and others visiting England, the desirability of providing themselves before their departure from India, with an authoritative certificate of identity, in the form appended to this Resolution, signed by the head of the district (in a Presidency Town, the Commissioner of Police) in the case of residents of British India and by the Political Officer in that of residents of Native States. For a student the certificate should be signed by the head of his last school or college and countersigned by the District Officer (in a Presidency Town, the Commissioner of Police) or Political Officer, as the case may be.

Circular No. 2054—T. A. 42, dated 2nd September 1904.

To—The Heads of Departments and Deputy Commissioners of Districts.

It is observed that, with but few exceptions, little or no notice is taken of the certificates, printed on Travelling Allowance Bills, such of them as have no connection whatever with the claim made in the bill being unnecessarily retained, thus leading this office to doubt whether those that are necessary for determining the rates at which mileage, daily allowance, or railway fare is admissible to the Officer, have been retained intentionally or through inadvertence. The undersigned, therefore, requests that in future the certificates that are not required may be scored out and each of the certificates retained attested with the initials of the Officer signing the bill.

In cases in which Travelling Allowance is claimed for a halt on the first or the last day of the month the date on which the halt commenced in the preceding month or that on which it ended in the succeeding month, as the case may be, should invariably be noted on the bill. Bills in which these instructions are not observed will be returned unaudited.

Postage is not charged for places within the Mysore Province. All subscriptions and advertisement charges must be paid in advance to the Compiler of the Mysore Gazette.

No. 2—10-9-1901.—Much inconvenience is caused in this office by subscribers not giving their full and correct addresses, and writing illegibly on the money order coupons, which are unfit for record.

No. 3—10-9-1901.—It is notified that as all Taluk Treasuries are authorized to receive subscriptions for the Gazette, money orders sent to this office will not be received, except from outside the Province.

No. 4—10-9-1901.—Communications on post-cards or on paper less than half a sheet of foolscap will not receive attention.

No. 5—1-10-1901.—An efficient system of check and counter-check is maintained over the despatching of Gazette copies forwarded through Post. No responsibility will be accepted when copies miscarry, or are not delivered to addressees, and such losses will not be replaced by duplicate copies.

No. 6—1-10-1901.—Complaints regarding non-receipt of the Gazette should be forwarded to the undersigned within a week after the date on which it is due.

No. 7—15-10-1901.—Copy is sometimes sent to the Press late on Wednesday evenings for publication in the next day's Gazette. This involves considerable inconvenience to the Press and expense to Government. It is therefore notified that all matter intended for publication in Parts II, III and IV should reach this office not later than Tuesday evening; and that for Part I not later than the forenoon of Wednesday, for the following Thursday's issue of the Gazette.

No. 8—15-10-1901.—It is requested that Departments will refrain from sending to the Press any matter for publication as extremely urgent later than 12 noon on Tuesdays when such matter can without inconvenience be held over for the next week's Gazette.

No. 9—15-10-1901.—Spare copies of notifications, etc., are often asked for long after their publication, when the matter has been broken up, necessitating its resetting, causing inconvenience to the Press and waste of money. It is therefore requested that when spare copies are wanted, a note to that effect, stating the number of copies, be made at foot of such notification, etc.

No. 10—15-10-1901.—If no instructions, either at foot of notifications, or separately by docket, accompany any matter, it will be printed in the language in which it is written, and published only once.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

Circular No. 2054—T. A. 42, dated 2nd September 1904.

To—The Heads of Departments and Deputy Commissioners of Districts.

It is observed that, with but few exceptions, little or no notice is taken of the certificates, printed on Travelling Allowance Bills, such of them as have no connection whatever with the claim made in the bill being unnecessarily retained, thus leading this office to doubt whether those that are necessary for determining the rates at which mileage, daily allowance, or railway fare is admissible to the Officer, have been retained intentionally or through inadvertence. The undersigned, therefore, requests that in future the certificates that are not required may be scored out and each of the certificates retained attested with the initials of the Officer signing the bill.

In cases in which Travelling Allowance is claimed for a halt on the first or the last day of the month the date on which the halt commenced in the preceding month or that on which it ended in the succeeding month, as the case may be, should invariably be noted on the bill. Bills in which these instructions are not observed will be returned unaudited.

To—The Deputy Commissioners of Districts, Treasury Department.

Circular No. 2055—T. A. D. 41-9, dated 15—16th September 1904.

It having been observed from the several District Treasury inspection reports that the Treasury accounts in their various stages of compilation are made over to the Revenue Department for comparison and rectification of its accounts, the undersigned has the honor to state that the practice being opposed to the Codal Rule, vide Rule 1 under Article 22 of the Civil Account Code, should be discontinued.

To—The Deputy Commissioners of Districts and Heads of Departments, and the Examiner, Public Works Accounts.

Circular No. 2056—T. A. D. Grp. I, 324, dated 19th September 1904.

The Comptroller has the honor to state that the books of this office for 1903-04 will remain open for adjustments and transfers only up to the 5th November 1904, and to request that the Deputy Commissioners of Districts and Heads of Departments will be so good as to intimate to this office through the respective District Treasuries all corrections and adjustments which they may propose in their Revenue Accounts of that year, before the 31st October 1903; after which date no applications for corrections or adjustments will be attended to.

NOTICE.

No. 1—10-9-1901.—The Mysore Gazette is published at Bangalore every Thursday. Application for the supply of the Gazette on Public Service should be addressed to the Secretary to the Government of Mysore, General and Revenue Departments. Postage is not charged for places within the Mysore Province. All subscriptions and advertisement charges must be paid in advance to the Compiler of the Mysore Gazette.

No. 2—10-9-1901.—Much inconvenience is caused in this office by subscribers not giving their full and correct addresses, and writing illegibly on the money order coupons, which are unfit for record.

No. 3—10-9-1901.—It is notified that as all Taluk Treasuries are authorized to receive subscriptions for the Gazette, money orders sent to this office will not be received, except from outside the Province.

No. 4—10-9-1901.—Communications on post-cards or on paper less than half a sheet of foolscap will not receive attention.

No. 5—1-10-1901.—An efficient system of check and counter-check is maintained over the despatching of Gazette copies forwarded through Post. No responsibility will be accepted when copies miscarry, or are not delivered to addressees, and such losses will not be replaced by duplicate copies.

No. 6—1-10-1901.—Complaints regarding non-receipt of the Gazette should be forwarded to the undersigned within a week after the date on which it is due.

No. 7—15-10-1901.—Copy is sometimes sent to the Press late on Wednesday evenings for publication in the next day's Gazette. This involves considerable inconvenience to the Press and expense to Government. It is therefore notified that all matter intended for publication in Parts II, III and IV should reach this office not later than Tuesday evening; and that for Part I not later than the forenoon of Wednesday, for the following Thursday's issue of the Gazette.

No. 8—15-10-1901.—It is requested that Departments will refrain from sending to the Press any matter for publication as extremely urgent later than 12 noon on Tuesdays when such matter can without inconvenience be held over for the next week's Gazette.

No. 9—15-10-1901.—Spare copies of notifications, etc., are often asked for long after their publication, when the matter has been broken up, necessitating its resetting, causing inconvenience to the Press and waste of money. It is therefore requested that when spare copies are wanted, a note to that effect, stating the number of copies, be made at foot of such notification, etc.

No. 10—15-10-1901.—If no instructions, either at foot of notifications, or separately by docket, accompany any matter, it will be printed in the language in which it is written, and published only once.

Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

Read—

(1) Subjects Nos. 268 and 269 of the Representative Assembly Proceedings of 1903, stating that English copies of the Mysore Gazette may be supplied to Patels and Shanbhogs at half rates and that the subscription for the Mysore Gazette may be reduced.

(2) Docket No. 58, dated the 31st August 1904, from the Compiler, Mysore Gazette.

With reference to his docket No. G. 376, dated 21st July 1904, has the honor to inform him that the cost of printing 100 extra copies of the English Gazette is estimated at about Rs. 300 per annum. The supply of the English Gazette to Patels and Shanbhogs at half rates would enhance work of the Press and would necessarily require additional establishment and it cannot therefore be recommended.

As regards the reduction of subscription to the Gazette, it is already sold at less than the cost price, and it does not therefore seem desirable to make it cheaper still, unless Government deem fit to do so for other than financial considerations.

(3) Subject No. 270 of the Representative Assembly Proceedings of 1903 stating that all important Government orders, notifications, etc., may be published in the Kannada copies of the Gazette.

No. G. 1550—12-2, DATED BANGALORE, 19TH SEPTEMBER 1904.

ORDER THEREON.—Government think that there is no necessity for making any change in the present arrangements.

INTRODUCTION.

A compilation of "Retail Prices of some principal articles of food in Mysore" was first issued in March 1901 for 1900 and previous years. In the second issue which appeared in March 1902 opportunity was taken to correct the errors in the first by re-printing the whole with the figures for 1901 added.

2. The present issue contains figures for 1903 and previous years with the following two changes :—

(i) Part B is curtailed by the omission of the figures for each year from 1886 to 1900 as they already appear in the second issue. The quinquennial averages for the same period are repeated instead as being sufficient.

(ii) Part C of the second issue has been omitted altogether. The figures are printed in antique type in Part A.

3. The following few words explain the statements herein embodied.

4. The prices herein given are retail prices, and are based upon the returns furnished every fortnight by Deputy Commissioners of Districts as being the average of the prices which prevailed in the principal markets of the District.

5. They are quoted for Rice, 1st and 2nd sort, Ragi, Cholam, Bengal Gram and Salt. They are given in seers and decimals of a seer per rupee (the standard seer of 80 tolas). Part A shows the annual average and Part B shows it by fortnights for a series of years. Each of these parts comprises 8 tables, one for each District in the State.

6. Part C exhibits the variations in value on the bases, years 1871-75=100 in Mysore and Bangalore, and year 1886=100 in all the Districts; and the variations in the prices of Rice, 2nd sort and Ragi are illustrated by a diagram for each District. Each chart illustrates both grains on the same page whereby their variations relatively to each other and to the prices in 1886 are also obvious.

7. Part D exhibits the retail price in each of the fortnights of 1903 alongside of the averages for the corresponding fortnights of the previous ten years, and the rise or fall has been shown as a percentage + or —.

Circular No. 2054—T. A. 42, dated 2nd September 1904.

To—The Heads of Departments and Deputy Commissioners of Districts.

It is observed that, with but few exceptions, little or no notice is taken of the certificates, printed on Travelling Allowance Bills, such of them as have no connection whatever with the claim made in the bill being unnecessarily retained, thus leading this office to doubt whether those that are necessary for determining the rates at which mileage, daily allowance, or railway fare is admissible to the Officer, have been retained intentionally or through inadvertence. The undersigned, therefore, requests that in future the certificates that are not required may be scored out and each of the certificates retained attested with the initials of the Officer signing the bill.

In cases in which Travelling Allowance is claimed for a halt on the first or the last day of the month the date on which the halt commenced in the preceding month or that on which it ended in the succeeding month, as the case may be, should invariably be noted on the bill. Bills in which these instructions are not observed will be returned unaudited.

To—The Deputy Commissioners of Districts and Heads of Departments, and the Examiner, Public Works Accounts.

Circular No. 2056—T. A. D. Grp. I, 324, dated 19th September 1904.

No. R. 2574—Ft. 3-04-22, dated 20th September 1904.

The following papers relating to the outbreak of a fatal disease among wild animals and Agricultural and Amrut Mahal cattle in Mysore are published for general information :—

(1) Letter No. 198 E. 1, dated 9th July 1904, from M. Muttannah, Esq., B. A., Offg. Conservator of Forests in Mysore, to B. K. Venkatavaradaiyengar, Esq., Offg. Secretary to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, General and Revenue Departments.

I have the honor to submit herewith for the information of Government, copy of a report from the District Forest Officer, Mysore, regarding an epidemic among elephants and other quadrupeds. The disease makes its appearance in the form of buboes between the hind legs which either remain stationary or travel towards the neck. The animal after this usually gives up its usual leaf-food, but takes small quantities of rice mixed with jaggory and within two or three days of the attack dies. All the four elephants stationed at Kakankote caught the infection; three have died and the fourth is showing signs of recovery. I have asked the District Forest Officer to send the buboes of any animal that may hereafter die from the disease to the Government Bacteriologist for examination.

2. Of the three elephants that died, "Kadampyari" was an old animal. "Ganesh" was about 35 years old and "Wasp," the well-known shikari elephant, was in the prime of life. The death of these elephants and, especially, of Wasp who cannot be replaced, is a very serious loss to the Department. This misfortune has happened just at a time when the want of sufficient elephants for timber-dragging purposes was being seriously felt, and unless we buy or capture some elephants to replace them, our timber operations will be greatly impeded or curtailed. I, therefore, intend to submit proposals after the epidemic has disappeared to capture a few elephants to supply our immediate demands.

Copy of letter No. 12, dated 2—5th July 1904, from the District Forest Officer, Mysore, to the Conservator of Forests in Mysore.

I have the honor to report that as already reported "Kumki" elephant "Kadampyari" which was dragging timber in the Karadihalla Coupe (B type) of the Kakankote Forest, took ill about the 1st June 1904 owing to a sprain in one of her legs. Two or three days subsequently, a big swelling like a bubo appeared between the hind legs, which travelled on towards the neck. In spite of all the medicines and treatment afforded, the animal grew worse day by day and succumbed to the malady on the 7th idem. "Wasp" caught the infection on the night of the 10th and was weak and without eating any leaf-fodder on the 11th, but after the administration of certain medicines and branding the swollen part between the hind legs, it seemed to improve and was taking leaf-fodder, etc., pretty freely; but grew worse after nightfall of the 11th and died at about 5 P. M. the following day.

"Ganesh" and "Jangbahadur" were segregated at once from the sick elephant and were being taken to Antersante. Both the elephants caught the infection about the 13th and "Ganesh" became too ill to be taken beyond Karpur where it was left. "Jangbahadur" continued the journey up to Manchagowdanhalli whence it could not proceed further and so was kept there. All that could be done to save the elephants was done, but "Ganesh" grew worse day after day and died on the 18th. "Jangbahadur" has been improving and is now out of danger.

Four wild elephants, three males and one female, were found dead in the Kakankote Forest round about Segurbadi. Also one bison (male or female not reported) five sambers (four males and one female) and deer and other animals have been found dead in different parts of the forest.

The tusks of all the dead male elephants (one had only one tusk) and the horns of samber, etc., have been removed by the forest people and preserved.

No further mortality among wild elephants and other animals has been reported since, and no carcass of either elephant or other animals has been found in the forests for some days past.

One of the Palace elephants (the "Muckna") also caught the bubo disease and fell a victim to it on the 25th ultimo, and it is rumoured that three more are affected by the disease.

Cattle are also dying from a similar disease. They also develop buboes and die very suddenly. About eighteen pairs of draught bulls have already died of the disease and good many are reported to be suffering from the complaint.

The outbreak of the disease among cattle is a very serious matter and will materially affect the welfare of the agricultural classes who in slack seasons carry on timber carting and other works. If the disease should take an epidemic from among cattle, the out-look will be a very gloomy one for the raiyats in the parts so affected by the disease.

It will be advisable to give explicit instructions to all Revenue Officers to segregate all the healthy cattle on the appearance of the first symptoms of the disease among any village cattle and keep the healthy or uninfected portion of the cattle as far away from villages and in as small groups as possible, to avoid wholesale destruction of cattle, should the disease make its appearance among segregated cattle.

(2) Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

Read—

Letter No. 198, [illegible] 9th July 1904, from the Conservator of Forests in Mysore, reporting the death of [illegible] elephants at Kakankote from some epidemic disease.

No. R. 603-6—FT. F. 3-04.

ORDER THEREON.—It is ap[illegible]nded that up to the present no attempt has been made to diagnose the disease. It is unlikely that much can be done now, but the matter is one of very general interest and the Government of His Highness the Maharaja consider that every endeavour should be made to find out the nature of the disease, so that precautions may be adopted against its spread, if possible. If animals are still dying, Mr. Narasimiengar, the Veterinary Officer and Dr. Sreenivasa Rao, the Government Bacteriologist, should at once be asked to proceed and gather information on the spot. The Conservator will report whether the epidemic has stopped or shows signs of increasing and the total number of cases which have occurred.

(3) Letter No. 828, dated Bangalore, 28th July 1904, from M. Muttannah, Esq., R. B., Officiating Conservator of Forests in Mysore, to B. K. Venkatavaradaiyengar, Esq., Officiating Secretary to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, General and Revenue Departments.

With reference to Government Order No. R. 603-6-3-5, dated 26th instant, I have the honor to report that the Forest Sub-Divisional Officer, Heggaddevankote, reports in his telegram of this date that one elephant in Kakankote, six in Begur and one in Ainurmarigudi have been found dead since the 2nd July. This together with the four previously reported make up twelve wild elephants that have died from the disease. The number of other wild animals found dead is twenty-one. The disease, it is stated, is still raging. I have, therefore, asked the Senior Surgeon to send at once Dr. Sreenivasa Rao, and Mr. Narasimha Iyengar, the Veterinary Officer, to Kakankote to make the necessary investigation as regards the nature of the disease as ordered by Government.

2. Among our kumki elephants, there have been no more cases. Jangbahadur which was attacked by the disease on the 13th instant, is reported to have recovered.

(4) Letter No. 824—Ft. F. 3-04, dated the 1st August 1904, from the Secretary to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, to the Conservator of Forests in Mysore.

With reference to your letter No. 828, dated the 28th July 1904, I am directed to state that the Senior Surgeon and the Military Assistant have been requested immediately to depute Dr. Sreenivasa Row and Veterinary Assistant Surgeon Mr. Narasimiengar, to investigate the cause of the reported extraordinary mortality among wild elephants and Amrut Mahal cattle, and to request you to give intimation of deaths, without delay to the Senior Surgeon.

(5) Letter No. 1091—Ft. F. 3-04, dated the 8th August 1904, from the Secretary to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, to M. Muthannah, Esq., Rai-Bahadur, Conservator of Forests in Mysore.

In continuation of this office No. 824-3-7, dated 1st August 1904, I am directed to forward herewith a copy of D. O. letter, dated the 4th idem, from the Senior Surgeon and Sanitary Commissioner with the Government of Mysore, on the subject of investing the disease prevailing amongst wild elephants and to request that you will be so good as to arrange in the best manner suitable with Col. Smyth personally and to the needful in the matter.

(6) No. 92, dated Mysore, 1st August 1904, from M. Kantaraj Urs, Esq., Deputy Commissioner, Mysore District, to B. K. Venkatavaradaiyengar, Esq., Secretary to the Government of Mysore in the General and Revenue Departments, through the Revenue Commissioner in Mysore.

I have the honor to state that the Amildar of Heggaddevankote Taluk reports that, from enquiries instituted during his inspection tour, he came to know that bullocks had died, having developed plague symptoms in Kittur, Uyyamballi, Hosaholalu, Nerle and other villages.

He further reports that elephants which had formerly fled from the Kakankote jungle owing to plague are returning, a fact which seems to indicate that the said jungle is now free from infection.

The Amildar's report No. 35 of 27th July 1904, which describes fully the course of the disease is herewith transmitted for your information.

(7) Letter No. 690—F. 25 of 1904-05, dated 26th August 1904, from Lt.-Col. R. G. Jones, I. A., Military Assistant to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, to B. K. Venkatavaradaiyengar, Esq., Secretary to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, General and Revenue Departments.

With reference to your unofficial Memorandum No. 14 of the 1st instant, I have the honor to enclose for information copies of the correspondence and to state that the Senior Surgeon to the Government of Mysore, having elected to send Dr. Sreenivasa Rao and the Assistant Veterinary Surgeon, I. S. Regiment, to investigate the cases reported, no application was made for the services of the Inspector General, Civil Veterinary Department, or other British Veterinary Officer to inspect the locality in question.

(8) Letter No. 1913, dated 29th August 1904, from T. Ananda Row, Esq., B.A., Revenue Commissioner in Mysore, to the Secretary to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, General and Revenue Departments.

I have the honor to submit herewith for the information of Government the extract from the diary of the Superintendent of Police of the Chitaldrug District for the week ending 20th August 1904, in original, (to be kindly returned when done with) re the appearance of cattle disease in the Challakere Taluk, received with Chitaldrug Deputy Commissioner's docket No. 78, dated 24th August 1904.

Diary of the Superintendent of Police, Chitaldrug, for the week ending Saturday the 20th August 1904.

Remarks of the Deputy Commissioner.

I have received no report from the Amildar. Stringent orders have been issued to him to segregate the healthy cattle and take other necessary precautions to check the spread of the disease. One cow and two calves are reported to have died on the 10th instant.

* * * *

The cattle disease reported to be prevalent in the Mysore District, seems to have made its appearance in this district. A report comes from Parasurampur station limits of the Challakere Taluk, that some cattle died suddenly and they were found to have buboes in their necks. I am calling for a detailed report with particulars as to its origin or cause, and whether this disease has been reported in any of the villages of the Tumkur District.

(9) Letter No. G. 149, dated Bangalore, 2nd September 1904, from Lieut.-Col. John Smyth, M.D., I.M.S., Offg. Senior Surgeon and Sanitary Commissioner with the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, Bangalore, to B. K. Venkatavaradaiengar, Esq., Secretary to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, General and Revenue Department, Bangalore.

With reference to the Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore and order thereon No. R. 603-6-3-5, dated 26th July 1904, I have the honor to forward the accompanying report of Dr. Sreenivasa Rao, Chemical Examiner and Bacteriologist to Government, on the recent outbreak of a rapidly fatal form of disease which has been observed in the State, affecting both wild and domesticated animals including elephants.

2. The report is very complete and requires little remark by me. But perhaps, it is as well to draw attention to the fact that not only is the bacillus described by Dr. Sreenivasa Rao, not identical in all respects with that of Septicæmia infection, but there are differences between the bacilli discovered by him at Kakankote and those found at Ajjampur. Dr. Sreenivasa Rao is of opinion that these bacilli are both varieties of the B. Septicæmia Hæmorrhagica, and I am aware that the idea of there being "varieties" of bacilli is gaining ground in high quarters. The similarity of the symptoms in the cattle, etc., observed in the present outbreak certainly favours the new view. At the same time, it appears to me that the matter is of the greatest importance, and I request that should any further attacks occur, Dr. Sreenivasa Rao may be communicated with direct so that no time may be lost in starting a fresh investigation and thus perhaps confirming the opinion now expressed by Dr. Sreenivasa Rao, or by enabling him to get further information, he may perhaps find he has alighted on a new disease.

3. As this report is of the highest epidemiological importance, I think it should be communicated to the Government of India and the various local Governments.

Letter No. 80, dated 30th August 1904, from M. Sreenivasa Rao, Esq., M.A., M.D., C.M. & B. Sc., (Edin.), Chemical Examiner and Bacteriologist to the Government of Mysore, Bangalore, to Lieut.-Col. J. Smyth, M.D., I.M.S., Senior Surgeon and Sanitary Commissioner with the Government of Mysore, Bangalore.

With reference to G. O. No. R. 603-6-3-5, dated 25th July 1904, I have the honour to report as follows:—

2. Accompanied by Mr. N. Narasimha Iyengar, Veterinary Officer, Imperial Service Regiment, I went to Lingadahalli on the 28th July 1904 and returned on the 1st August. We inspected herd No. 14 reported to have been infected but found all the animals healthy. The following account of the epidemic was given by the Daroga and Servegar. The first animal was attacked on the 9th July 1904 and died in 48 hours and the last animal attacked was on the 17th July and it died on the 22nd idem. Between the 9th and 17th July seven Amrut Mahal cattle were attacked and all of them died. Between the 10th and 13th July 3 private cattle were attacked also with fatal results. The symptoms detailed to us were as follow:—The animals were observed to be dull and isolated from the herd. There was high fever with rigors, swelling of the head and face, ears drooping, tongue swollen with a sticky discharge, swelling of the neck, acrid discharge from eyes and nostrils, rumination completely lost, bowels costive, dung hard and coated with mucus and blood, swelling in groin and thigh. The average duration of illness was 3 days, the shortest having been 2 and the longest 5. As there were no fresh attacks after the 22nd July and as all the dead animals had been either skinned, burnt or left in the jungles we were obliged to content ourselves with examining the clotted blood on the hides of 2 animals and the clots of blood found on the spot where they had been skinned. Though quite dry, they, however, contained swarms of bacilli in an uncontaminated condition. The blood was examined at once microscopically and cultures were made from it on agar-agar media and in the course of 24 hours good growths were observed. As these bacilli were found to be identical with those isolated from the animals examined at Kakankote, a description of their characters will be given later on.

3. We left for the Kakankote Forest on the 7th August 1904 and on our way we enquired into the condition of the cattle at Hampapur, Heggaddevankote and Antersante. At Hampapur we examined the blood of a bullock which was recovering from the effects of a swelling on the right flank which had first appeared three weeks ago and broke out as a large ulcer a few days before our arrival there. This blood also showed the same kind of bacilli as had been seen in the clotted blood of the animals at Lingadahalli. Mr. H. Srinivasa Rao, the Assistant Conservator of Forests, furnished the following history of the attacks amongst the elephants. An elephant of the name of "Khadam Pari" returned from Kymara where it was carrying timber to Kakankote on [illegible]th May 1904. She fell ill on the 2nd June with high fever and huge swellings under t[illegible]d was unable to move. She was off her feed for five days with colicky sym[illegible] at 10 A.M., on the 7th June. The elephants "Wasp", "Ganesh" and "Jung Bahadur" helped in dragging "Khadam Pari" to the pit where it was buried. "Wasp" fell ill on the 10th June and died on the 12th with similar symptoms. "Ganesh" was attacked on the 13th and died on the 18th. "Jung Bahadur" was also attacked at the same time as "Ganesh" but is now recovering. At Heggaddevankote, the Amildar gave the following history of the epidemic amongst the cattle in his taluk:—In the latter part of June one Chilligauda returned from Outangadi via Kakankote with 4 bullocks, lost one on the road with swellings and another in his village of Uggambhalli to which he returned. The disease seems to have spread to Sogahalli from Kakankote to which 4 bullocks had gone. Nine animals in all were attacked at Sogahalli and all died. Of the 5 animals that returned from Kakankote to Nisna, all were attacked but 3 died with swellings and 2 recovered. Similarly 50 cattle died in 13 villages in all. We were also informed that 25 heads of bison and deer and 14 wild elephants were found dead at various times. We got exhumed 2 elephants, one at Kakankote and the other at Kharapur, but the process of decomposition was so far advanced that nothing could be made out of them. At Antersante the blood of "Jung Bahadur" which was recovering was examined and it was found to contain bacilli whose characters are described below:—

The bacilli are 1 micro-millimetre long and half as broad. They are strongly motile and stain easily with the usual aniline dyes. They do not form any spores and, so far as observations go at present, they preserve their vitality in spite of desiccation for at least 7 days. They multiply at the ordinary temperature of the room, i.e., 25·5°C., but grow more luxuriantly in the incubator at 37°C. They do not liquify gelatine but grow on the surface as greyish white colonies. In a stab culture the growth appears only along the track of the needle. In ordinary bouillon, growth is rapid and the turbidity is uniform. On agar-agar and glycerine-agar, they grow forming greyish white colonies. On potatoes the growth is very thin and hardly perceptible. Growth in peptone solution gives indol reaction. Blue litmus milk is curdled and turned red in 48 hours showing that acid is produced. Anærobic cultivation on glucose-formate broth shows a good growth with an evolution of plenty of gas. When rabbits are inoculated with small doses of these bacilli, they succumb in the course of 24 hours with all symptoms of intense septicæmia. The bacillus was recovered from the spleen and blood of the inoculated rabbits. From a study of the morphology and biology of this bacillus, I am of opinion that it is a variety of the "Bacillus Septicæmia Hæmorrhagica" described by Kitt, Heuppe and other observers who noticed it in the cattle and deer epidemic which broke out in Germany for the first time in 1878. During subsequent epidemics in 1881, 1885-86, 1889 and 1894 in parts of Germany, the same bacillus was credited with having caused the outbreak named "Deer and Cattle Disease." The symptoms then observed and the generally fatal termination of the disease tally with those observed at Lingadahalli and Kakankote, the only new feature being the attack of elephants which of course are not found in Germany. Not a single animal that was attacked at Lingadahalli recovered, while of those attacked at Kakankote, we heard of the recovery of one elephant and two bullocks only. The only treatment that appears to be of any use is the giving of good nourishing food and free stimulation by the administration of spirits. The prophylactic measures to be recommended are the isolation of the sick animals, the prevention of the healthy ones from gaining access into the infected places and the burning of dead bodies wherever practicable or deep burial so that the surface soil may not get infected.

4. We went to Ajjampur on the 20th August 1904 and inspected herd No. 3 consisting of about 150 animals including about 60 calves and found only 2 calves with rise of temperature but recovering from the attack. One of these is reported to have died on the 22nd. The disease began on the 7th August and continued till the 21st with 19 attacks and 17 deaths. The symptoms observed were that the calves gave up sucking, were falling down and getting up repeatedly probably owing to colic and had hard breathing which continued for an hour and terminated in death. Only very young calves of 2 and 3 months old were attacked, the grown up ones escaping completely. Three private calves belonging to a kavalgar were also attacked on the 15th and 16th August and died. The disease appears to have been a very virulent one, the calves dying within 2 hours of the first symptoms observed. We held post mortem on 2 calves which had died shortly before our arrival there. The post mortem appearances were spleen enlarged to about 10 times its normal size, liver congested, intense inflammation of the large intestines and moderate inflammation of the small intestines, congestion of the lungs and slight pericarditis. Blood was taken from the spleen and heart and examined under the microscope and cultures were made. The bacilli resembled in their characters those found at Lingadahalli and Kakankote except in the following particulars. In a stab culture on gelatine the growth was not limited to the needle track but extended in all directions. On potatoes there is a thick and yellowish growth. Milk is not curdled and its blue colour is not discharged, showing that no acid is produced. Anærobic cultivation on glucose formate broth shows no growth. This bacillus is quite as virulent for rabbits as the other, the inoculated animals dying within 24 hours with symptoms of intense septicæmia. I believe this bacillus to be also a variety of the "Bacillus Septicæmia, Hæmorrhagica." Similar disease affecting very young calves has been described by Jensen. No treatment appears to be of any use as the animals die so suddenly. The same prophylactic measures may however be adopted.

5. I must not omit to acknowledge the valuable help rendered by Veterinary Officer Mr. N. Narasimha Iyengar who accompanied me in my tours. He conducted the post mortem examination of the calves and his knowledge of Veterinary Pathology was of great use to me in arriving at a correct diagnosis of the disease.
